

Plan Observance Of Light's Golden Jubilee Here

Edison Celebration Will be Observed Here October 21 — Committee Will Carry Out Details of Local Program—Judge Clearwater Tells of His Personal Experiences With Edison.

To participate in Light's Golden Jubilee, an international program honoring the event of the first successful electric light of Thomas Edison on October 21, 1879, prominent Kingston citizens under the leadership of Judge A. T. Clearwater, formed a sponsoring committee which met at the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday noon to promote a plan for the city of Kingston to follow as its part in the world-wide affair. The event, begun by several Edison pioneers, will be celebrated in Kingston on October 21.

Included in the sponsoring committee besides Judge Clearwater are Mayor Edgar J. Dempsey, Dr. M. J. Michael, F. W. Heimerle, Major Ashton Hart, Lucius Dory, Edward Corkendall, the Rev. Frank B. Seeley, A. Ray Everett, William Warren, John D. Schoonmaker, George Burgevin, James F. Dwyer, Samuel Bernstein, Thomas J. Comerford, John R. Meehan and Roswell Coles. Mr. Schoonmaker, who was unable to be present at the meeting, sent a telegram promising any aid that was necessary from him and heartily supporting the event. Others absent from the dinner included Mr. Dwyer and Mr. Bernstein. Besides the committee at the luncheon, R. C. Dawe was present with two replicas of the original Edison carbon lamp, and a sketch of Edison working on the first phonograph. The latter is the property of Judge Clearwater, together with a letter stating that the etching is authentic.

During the luncheon, two records depicting a coming celebration for Edison on the 50th anniversary were played. With Graham McNamee, famous radio announcer at the "Mike," paintings of verbal pictures in sections all over the United States and over the whole of Europe were brought to the Kingston committee, predicting what will happen when the anniversary of modern light is celebrated.

Mr. Meehan opened the meeting with an explanation of what was expected of the committee, and offered suggestions as to what could be done here to commemorate the first electric light and the man who made it possible. It was suggested that the service clubs, Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations hold special sessions dedicating one program to Edison and his accomplishments. The churches and schools were asked to pay special attention to the thought of things Edison did for one day near the time of the celebration.

In accordance with the action taken by governors of several states and mayors of other cities, it was suggested that Mayor Dempsey issue a proclamation for the event. Mr. Meehan explained that the national sponsoring committee, headed by President Herbert Hoover, would begin a national campaign to promote the event. President Hoover has offered any personal aid he could give and has lent his entire support to the program, according to Mr. Meehan.

Judge Clearwater Meets Edison. The speaker then called upon Judge Clearwater to tell about his personal experiences with Edison, whom he called "the world's most popular figure." The judge was said to be the one best informed upon Edison, because of his personal acquaintance with the inventor and his general knowledge concerning things in the electrical field.

"I first met Edison," Judge Clearwater began, "at the funeral of John Burroughs. I was Mr. Burroughs' lawyer and it was his wish that I, Henry Ford, Harvey Firestone and Thomas Edison sit at the head of his coffin. We sat at the foot of it. After the funeral, Edison and I were walking in the garden, and he being deader than I remarked that if Ford and Firestone were only dead, the four of us would make a great pair. Seriously, Edison wanted to know Burroughs' financial condition and I explained that he was almost penniless. Edison then asked me to purchase Burroughs' home, which I did."

"My second meeting with the great inventor came when a difference of opinion was raised as to just what material the biography of Burroughs would contain. Edison and I were of one opinion and several others entertained different views. Luckily ours prevailed. Many letters passed between us concerning the purchase of the Burroughs property, and I found from his letters that Edison was one of the most modest and human of men. Edison has one of the finest and strongest characters that I have ever known," the speaker continued.

"My connection with electricity began in Kingston Academy. It was then the custom of the teachers to take the boys who caused the greatest trouble in the class room and put them to work on a project that was most to their liking. In this way I became the electrician of our

Sensational New Evidence in War Time Claims Case

Washington, Sept. 27 (P).—New evidence in the $40,000,000 sabotage claims against Germany, based upon alleged responsibility of German agents for the Black Tom and Kingsland, New Jersey, disasters of 1916 and 1917, shortly is to be laid before the Mixed Claims Commission.

The evidence tells how Theodore Wazniak, who worked at the Kingsland Foundry and had been widely sought for more than 12 years, appeared at the office of the German agent of the commission in Washington several weeks ago, admitted that the Kingsland fire started at his work bench, denied that he was in the service of Germany and told how he had lived in New York while the search for him was in progress.

Tender of the evidence—a mass of documents and papers filling five volumes—produced in the commission a state of tension virtually unmatched in the history of the body. Immediately after it was offered, the American agent submitted objections to its admission. This move brought a reply from the German agent, and now the commission must decide what parts if any of the new material is to receive consideration.

The new evidence also purports to meet United States charges implicating directly two other alleged German agents—Kurt Jahnke, admitted head of the German Secret Service in this country during the war, who has returned to his home and become a member of the Prussian Diet, and Lothar Witzke, the only German who ever was tried and convicted and sentenced to be hanged as a spy.

Wazniak is said to have declared he never "disappeared," as the United States agent holds he did after the first investigation. The German agent has produced hospital, army draft and court records in support of this statement. The United States contention is that Wazniak was seen during this period confederating with other known German spies in Mexico.

Other records included in the new evidence purport to show that Jahnke—said by the United States to have set the Black Tom explosion, signed a time sheet only two days earlier while working as a watchman at the Anglo-London and Paris National Bank of San Francisco.

$25,000 for Death of Husband. Schenectady, N. Y., Sept. 27 (P).—A supreme court jury today returned a verdict of $25,000 against the Schenectady Railway Company in favor of Mrs. Doris K. Bond, in an action brought to recover damages in the death of her husband, Harry Bond, an actor, who was killed by an interurban trolley car in 1926.

class. I can well remember the teacher, who at the time was enamored with one of the young ladies in the class. In a devilish prank, I gave him a Leyden jar charged with a heavy current of electricity which discharged through his body with a great sheet of flame. This caused the young lady to faint and placed her in the arms of the teacher. My last connection with things electrical came on the fifth of September when I had the pleasure of inspecting the plant of the Niagara Power Company," he concluded.

A Working Committee. The sponsoring committee then decided to appoint a working committee to carry out the details of the Kingston program. The committee will be appointed the first of next week. Several suggestions were entertained concerning the city's direct part in the program. Thoughts were presented to have one of the municipal buildings lighted for the affair, or to hold a public program in one of the city parks. No definite action was taken on the matter, but things were left hanging while each of the members had a chance to think out some scheme, pending another meeting.

It was explained that the affair was to be international in that a radio hookup of American and European stations was to present various countries' parts in the program.

The affair will not be a one-day event. It began early in the summer and will continue until the end of the year. The American Legion is planning to devote the first day of its National Convention to the great inventor, a day at the recent air derby was made Edison day and the fifth American Festival of Light at Niagara Falls is to be dedicated to Edison.

Links 4 Naval Officers With W. B. Shearer

Drew Pearson, Washington News-
porman at Geneva Conference, Says "Cards Were Stacked Against Success" From the Start.

Washington, Sept. 27 (P).—One side of William B. Shearer's employment by American shipbuilders as "observer and reporter" at the unsuccessful 1927 Geneva arms limitation conference was before the Senate's investigators today for study in preparation for the questioning Monday of the self-styled naval expert himself.

In the picture thus far developed, crowded with opinions, recollections and animosities and drawn principally from shipbuilders most intimately concerned with the Geneva incident, were included claims of influence at Geneva by Shearer and testimony by his employers denying that he was engaged to work against the success of the conference.

It was alleged that Shearer in a suit for more than $250,000 against the three corporations involved that caused President Hoover to order the department of justice investigation and the Senate to direct the naval sub-committee to conduct the current inquiry.

The investigators rounded out their record in preparation for Shearer's testimony with an account of his activities as observer and member by Drew Pearson, Washington newspaperman, who reported the Geneva conference for several newspapers. As a sequel to his testimony some of the naval experts who attended the conference as sides of the American delegation undoubtedly will be called for questioning.

Saying "the cards were stacked against success of the conference from the start," Pearson told the investigating committee he "frequently saw four of the American experts—Rear Admirals J. M. Reeves and Frank H. Scofield and Commanders H. H. Frost and H. C. Train—in company with Shearer."

Admiral Reeves, he said, "frequently expressed the hope that the conference would not succeed." All four of the experts, he testified, stayed in the same hotel where Shearer had a "luxurious apartment" and was a "lavish spender, and they and Shearer expressed common views."

"That is," the newspaperman explained, "anti-British views and against the success of the conference."

Pearson insisted upon getting into his testimony the statement that neither Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, retired, nor Hugh Gibson, ambassador to Belgium, the American delegates at the Geneva conference, met or associated with Shearer and that they worked "sincerely for an agreement."

In addition to his association with the naval experts, the newspaperman testified, the shipbuilders "observer and reporter" attended press conferences and passed out memoranda to the newspaper correspondents.

Shearer was "primarily interested that the conference should not succeed," Pearson asserted.

The committee adjourned the hearing until Monday.

Surprise Speaker At Valley Dinner

The committee which is completing the final arrangements for the dinner of the Rondout Valley Chamber of Commerce, to be held Tuesday evening, October 1, at the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston, announces that it has a surprise in store for the evening.

In addition to the two eminent speakers whose names have been made public—Justice McNamee and Dr. John T. Loughran—the committee has been able to secure a third speaker. The name of the third speaker is being withheld and will be kept secret until the time comes for him to be introduced to the guests of the evening.

The sub-committees in Kingston and the various communities along the valley have been advised to keep their telephones busy reminding friends that reservations for the dinner must be in by Saturday, September 28, so that Manager Gross may know just how many he has to serve Tuesday evening. The dinner tickets, which everyone must have to enter the magnificent crystal ball room, will be mailed on Saturday.

The following will be the menu for the dinner:

FLEISCHMANN'S HOTEL DESTROYED BY FIRE

The Switzerland hotel at Fleischmanns, one of the large hotels in the village, located at Lake Switzerland, which was destroyed by fire a week ago will probably never be re-built. The hotel was built 43 years ago at a cost of many thousands of dollars. When the Fleischmanns fire department arrived the hotel was a mass of flames, and was completely destroyed. In the past few years many large additions had been built. How the fire started is not known.

Must Install Warning Signals At Lake Katrine

Albany, Sept. 27 (P).—The New York Central Railroad Company is directed in an order of the Federal Service Commission to install approved automatic warning signals of the horizontal flashing type at the neighborhood crossing south of its Lake Katrine station, Ulster county. It was testified at the hearing that because of the ascending grades to the westwardly approach of the crossing headlights of autos shone in the eyes of drivers approaching from the opposite direction. The railroad company asked for a dismissal of the complaint on the ground that the traffic did not warrant the expenditure of $3,550, the estimated cost of the signals. There have been several accidents at the crossing which is now to be given protection.

Sudden Death of Luther S. Decker

Widely Known Business Man and Charter Member of One of First Christian Endeavor Societies in New York State—Brief Sketch of His Life.

Luther S. Decker, who for the past thirty-five years had been connected with the furniture house of Stock & Cordis on Lower Broadway, died early this morning following a short illness. Funeral services will be held from the late residence, 7 Mountain View avenue, on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. Decker became widely known and respected throughout Ulster county during the many years he had been with the firm of Stock & Cordis, and by his genial disposition and courtesy he made a host of friends. As a young man he became interested in Christian Endeavor work and he was a charter member of one of the first Christian Endeavor Societies in New York state. He was one of the organizers of the Kingston Local Union of Christian Endeavor and also for years active in the Ulster County Christian Endeavor Union. At the time of his death he was one of the officers of the New York State Christian Endeavor Union, holding the office of regional trustee.

By his work in Christian Endeavor circles he became probably one of the best known Christian Endeavor workers in Ulster county, and held various offices both in the county union and also the Kingston Local Union. Mr. Decker for many years was a member of the group of speakers both from the county union and the Kingston Local Union who visited many of the churches of Ulster county and delivered addresses along the lines of Christian Endeavor work. He was also instrumental, with others, in organizing new societies throughout Ulster county.

Mr. Decker was also active in church work and was for many years a loyal member of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church. He was a member of the board of trustees of the church, treasurer of the church and also a member of the board of deacons.

For several years he served as a member of the board of directors of the local Y. M. C. A., and was always deeply interested in the welfare of that association.

In the death of Mr. Decker, Kingston has lost one of its lifelong and highly respected residents. He was a son of the late George Maurice Decker and Anna E. Shaffer Decker, and is survived by his wife, who was Miss Lillian Edson; one son, Lester E. Decker, and a sister, Miss Anna May Decker, all of this city.

Friends may call Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock at the late residence. Interment will be at the convenience of the family in the family plot in Wiltwyck cemetery.

Kiwanis Kapers Opens Tonight at Broadway Theatre

When the Broadway Theatre opens tonight at 8:15, this year's edition of Kiwanis Kapers will be revealed in all its splendor. That the entertainment will be one of the most brilliant and interesting ever sponsored by the Kiwanis is suggested by the spirit of the cast, which is made up of the best amateur performers in this city.

Charles L. Adams, of the Miller Producing Company, who coached the show, is satisfied with the way that the cast took to the snappy program, dancing and comedy. He expects the Kingston talent to put the kapers across in a manner that will make the show surpass by a great margin the performances he directed here last year and the previous season.

Annual patrons of Kiwanis Kapers hearing of the quantities of this year's show, and spurred by the fact that there is to be but two performances this year instead of three, got in touch with ticket sellers at an early hour. Many wanted to see the opening performance, which is the first of any production, and so tonight's audience will be one of the largest that ever taxed the capacity of the Broadway Theatre.

Other Kiwanians, who delight in seeing a show after the edges have been smoothed by a first performance, booked their seats for Saturday. Although there is already a great number sure of attending the second show, there is plenty of good seats left for those who care to see the Kapers. And those who do never will regret that they attended.

Aside from enjoying a good show put on by Kingston's best performers, those who patronize the Kapers can do so with the realization that the price paid will go to swell a fund to be used for charitable purposes. The net proceeds of the show will be to defray expenses of a Kiwanis Clinic and to further relief work.

The Kiwanis Club is made up of Kingston's most prominent business and professional men. The club has been identified not alone by the staging of its annual benefit show, but by the good work it does. Although the organization goes about its good work in a silent manner, grateful benefactors cannot help but spread the word concerning Kiwanis' deeds of charity.

So, along with being a high class entertainment feature, the Kapers are a means by which all can share in promoting a most worthy cause. The Kiwanis Club feels that all expectations of success will be met by the response of the public.

SMOKES A PACK A DAY TO "KEEP THE INDUSTRY GOING"

Washington, Sept. 27 (P).—James C. Stone, of Kentucky, who represents tobacco on the Federal Farm Board, calculates that even if a person smokes a package of cigarettes daily it would take forty-two years for that individual to consume a single hoghead of the raw product.

He told the Senate agriculture committee that a package a day was his own quota. While that might seem a lot of cigarettes, he felt he had to do his share "to keep the industry going."

"Even at that," put in Senator Smith, a Democrat from the tobacco growing state of South Carolina, "you don't do as well as the flappers."

Dieudonne Coste In Question Mark Tries for Record

French Ace, With Maurice Bellonte, Flying Straight East Toward Siberia—Laborious Takeoff.

Le Bourget, Sept. 27 (P).—Lastward form Paris early today streaked Dieudonne Coste, French ace, and his bosom friend, Maurice Bellonte, in the famous plane Question Mark on a long distance night aimed to break the world's record and put the pilots down somewhere in far Siberia.

Announced as a distance flight to the east, nevertheless the objective of the intrepid and temperamental Frenchman and his companion remained uncertain until after the start because some thought Coste had prepared to make another attempt to fly the Atlantic and reach New York.

"I am going to try to beat the distance record by flying on a straight line to the east, probably over Siberia," Coste said just before he started.

Inasmuch as the French ace made similar announcements prior to his previous attempt to fly the Atlantic, there still were doubts as to his real intentions.

At the takeoff the plane was loaded with 1,350 gallons of fuel and 60 gallons of oil. A good stock of food was aboard.

Coste's heavily loaded craft had a laborious takeoff. The wheels left the ground at a point a thousand yards along the runway, but touched earth again 200 and 400 yards farther on.

After these great bounces the plane cleared again as it approached a civet to the north of the field. It was 50 feet in the air as it passed over the water, but was only 100 feet high some distance away. Still it veered to the east at this low altitude, already registering distance away from its starting point.

Coste had dismantled the wireless equipment of the plane, so the only news of his adventure will come from ground observers. He carried into the air the last possible gallon of fuel his craft would hold. He said he hoped to fly more than 5,000 miles.

Mrs. Phillips Had Husband Arrested

Husband Called Her Names and Started to Break Up Furniture Thursday Night—Judge Shufeldt Offered Husband Two Alternatives—Panhandler Sent to Jail.

Rudolph Phillips was placed under arrest by his wife at their home, 13 East Union street, on Thursday evening and turned over to Officer McDonough. Mrs. Phillips charged her husband with disorderly conduct. This morning in police court she informed Judge Shufeldt that her husband called her names and then started to break up the furniture.

Judge Shufeldt sentenced Phillips to thirty days in the county jail, and then offered him an opportunity to show if he really cared for his family. Phillips could either serve the jail sentence or else he could stay away from his family for a while and pay his wife $12 a week. Phillips accepted the alternative of contributing to his family's support.

William Logan a stranger, was arrested this morning charged with soliciting downtown. Later in police court he was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail.

For Safe Storage of Films.

Washington, Sept. 27 (P).—After an investigation resulting from the Cleveland Hospital disaster last May, the Bureau of Standards today recommended that photographic, motion picture and X-ray films be confined in cabinets or racks as a safety measure. The storage places, it added, should be fireproof, protected by automatic sprinklers and vented to the outside air. "Vaults should preferably be located on the roof or in a separate building," the bureau recommended.

APPEAL FOR SUPPORT OF SALVATION ARMY DRIVE.

TO THE PEOPLE OF KINGSTON:

The undersigned citizens of Kingston have been interested in the work of the Salvation Army in this city and county. They are familiar with the needs of the Army at this time. They know that the amount asked for in a campaign on at the present time will be required that the work shall go on unimpeded. They realize that the campaign is dragging some at this time, and feel that it is because of the lack of workers to reach the people who are in sympathy with the army and want to support its work.

We feel that all such friends to immediately respond to the emergency, and send in their contributions. The army budget for the entire year to come is but $5,000. A central heating plant will cost $3,000, making a total of $8,000. More than $5,000 of this sum has been raised. And but comparatively few people have been seen. The week is nearing its end. We feel the entire amount should be in hand tomorrow, Saturday night.

We therefore, at this time appeal to all people interested as we are, in this work, to send in their contributions at once. Let the contributions be small or large, but send them in to the Salvation Army, North Front street, today.

Unusual "Merger" Of Brothers
Behind Film Studio's Success

By HUBBARD KEATY
(AP Feature Service Writer)
Hollywood (P).—Almost everyone in the movie industry knows the Christie brothers.

In Hollywood one hears of them as the Christie brothers, collectively, and not so much as Al or Charlie.

Both are Stalwart Scots, more than six feet tall. They are the real fifty-fifty brothers of the movies. What is Al's is half Charlie's and what is Charlie's is half Al's, whether it's a house or a studio or a dog or a boat. They have a joint bank account.

Not long ago Charlie walked into Al's office and said: "Well, Al, we just went for a hundred thousand dollars for a sound stage."

"That's great," said Al. "I hope it makes some money. And say, Charlie, we just signed Marie Dressler for a picture."

"Fine, Al. She ought to be good." The line of demarcation between the affairs which one brother is best suited to, and in which the other never meddles, has made the Christie brothers the combination they are.

Al is essentially film-minded; he was a stage director before he was 20 and was one of the first film directors; and Charlie is essentially business-minded.

When a story is to be bought or an actor hired, Al does it. Where contracts or distribution of pictures are involved, or investments or buildings, Charlie uses his judgment.

The partnership goes back to 1916, when the company bearing their name was formed with a capital of $6,000. Al had been with the Nestor Film Company in Bayonne, N. J., in 1908, when they shot "big dramas of the west" in one reel in one afternoon in Brady's woods.

Charlie, who had been with the Grand Trunk Railroad in the boys' home town of London, Ontario, came to Hollywood in 1917, after the Nestor Film Company had merged with Universal.

The brothers worked for Universal, Al as head of the comedy department. One day they decided to resign, and, going to the location Al had established on Sunset Boulevard for the Nestor Company, they started their own concern, to make comedies.

Charlie progressed bit by bit together. One never goes yachting without the other. With such recreations, it is apparent they have had financial success.

Charlie was in a poker game once. The Christie household, under one roof, includes, besides the brothers, their mother, sister, an aunt and Al's wife. Charlie's wife died several years ago.

The brothers attend polo games. And Al was 2,000 miles away at dog and horse shows and the theatre the time.

A "brother act" performed in the business offices of a picture making company in Hollywood has led to its growth from an original capital of $6,000 to a point where $100,000 recently was spent for one stage. Left to right: Al Christie; Mrs. Mary Christie, their mother, and Charlie Christie.

otherwise leave them blank. It was also announced that at the next meeting the three new secretaries of the "Y" would undoubtedly be present and have a few words to say. Any fellow in high school as well as faculty members will be welcomed to this meeting. Tickets must be purchased and paid for before Tuesday noon of next week.

President Watts announced that "Purposive Cards" had been put at each place. He asked the fellows who desired to set themselves to the task of "creating, maintaining and extending high standards of Christian character throughout their school and community" to sign.

Infancy of Gas
America was but little behind England in the use of gas. Newport, R. I., and Baltimore, Md., were, with New York, the American cities to lead the procession. The first public street lighting with gas was on January 30, 1807, in Pall Mall, London.

Hi-Y Holds
First Meeting

The first meeting of the fall-winter term, 1929-30, of the Kingston Hi-Y Club was held Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A. A fine roast beef supper had been prepared and was well served by a team from the Auxiliary. An orchestra consisting of Howard Thomas, piccolo, Kenneth Newell and Warren Ingalsbe, violins, Wallace Buley, cornet, and Miss Mildred Haas furnished music for the meeting. Vincent Pretsch said grace.

John C. Porter was the speaker of

The evening and spoke on "Preparations for Life." He said that one of the things that was causing a great many to make a failure of their life is because they do not finish the course in high school or college that they start. He congratulated the fellows on the fine showing they had out for the first meeting of the year and expressed the hope that the Hi-Y Club of this year would be as successful as those of previous years.

Jackson Kemper led the club in devotions.

President Watts announced that "Purposive Cards" had been put at each place. He asked the fellows who desired to set themselves to the task of "creating, maintaining and extending high standards of Christian character throughout their school and community" to sign.

the normal and once more became the Washington weekly and its atrocious "sentiments" were accepted,

not to say enthusiastically welcomed.

by the Camenoties as proof of an outrageous "plot" to foil Al and Rascoe

on the country three years hence—

also as proof that Virginia should drop its own immediate concerns and combine to stamp upon this deadly snake in the national grass, and that the only way to do it, the one imperative need, was to elect the candidate for Governor of Virginia (one State out of forty-eight) put in the field by the coalition of Republicans and Camenoties. The Democrats charge that this is a mere "smoke-screen" to cover the fact that Governor Byrd's administration has left so little that can be reasonably attacked. Impartial outside observers are likely to attribute it to the eccentricities of a hard-riding Bishop in politics.

According to an Iowa State College

"agriculture engineer," fifty years from now the American farmer "will sit in an office before an electric switchboard and control automatic plows, cultivators and harvesters

which will produce his crops for him

without the aid of a single field laborer." What will then become of the jobless field laborers is not stated.

while failing utterly to improve the condition of the mill hands, will further inflame the native populace.

There is danger that it will also injure the case of the sixteen men and women to go on trial again for the murder of Chief Adersholt. The withdrawal of the Communist firebrands would have a calming effect, make easier the task of the local authorities and contribute toward an unim-passioned and fair trial of the sixteen accused persons.

IS THE STRING LONG ENOUGH?

After our victorious little war with

Spain in behalf of "Cuba Libre" that island was given independence—

with a string to it. We provided for our cooling stations, etc. and or-

derained that in its foreign relations

Cuba should not do certain things without our consent. A rather sizable string that, but, after all, it is really long or elastic enough to justify the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations in permitting the publication of an anonymous resolution it is now considering which calls for an American investigation of Cuba's internal

SYNOPSIS: Fotherbury's story, which is the story of a second treasure hunt, is a story of a man who has been buried alive for a century. The story is a story of a man who has been buried alive for a century. The story is a story of a man who has been buried alive for a century.

Chapter 41

HYOCENE

SMITHINS—that London firm, posing as brokers, the connecting link between Redlake, Marling

and Fotherbury in the mystery of Roger Pell!

Fotherbury merely gasped. Lax-

ton spoke again:

"Did you think Smithins were acting for a client? My dear sir, they acted for themselves. Having drawn Mr. Redlake into their trap, they induced him to give a most preposterous mortgage on New-place. While they were negotiating that mortgage security, Mr. Red-lake mentioned, in a jocular

way, that there were legends of concealed riches at Newplace.

Marling heard of the story, came down to look over the abbey ruins and probably persuaded you, without your own consciousness of it, to engage him as chaplain."

Mr. Fotherbury signed to Laxton to go on.

"You still have doubts about the character of Marling. Well, we will see. It was because of Mar-ling's knowledge and Marling's conduct, that Pell was murdered in this room."

"Pell?" Mr. Fotherbury exclaimed. "Whatever Marling may have been, professor, he didn't shoot

Pell."

"I didn't say he shot Pell," Laxton retorted. "I said Pell was shot because of Marling. And I'll tell you how, Mr. Fotherbury. Pell and

Mr. Redlake were close friends.

As Laxton went on to relate the story of Ostend and Dover, Mr.

Fotherbury's eyes bulged with astonishment.

"Did you guess," Laxton asked,

"when Pell came down to help you explore your ruins that Pell had been in prison a year because of this damnable conspiracy? Did

Marling tell you? No—apparently he didn't."

"Did you know that after his release from prison Pell got into the

He closed the door. We heard the catch of the lock turn back.

"Precautions," said Laxton.

"You'll see how necessary."

His voice was the only sound in the room. There was an uneasy stealth about his quick movements.

In a moment he had thrown back

the cover of the chest.

We grouped round the chest and looked in. What we saw there was not new to Somerset and me. Our eyes had feasted on it as it lay on my bed. But Mr. Fotherbury cried out.

The thing was not open more than a few seconds. Laxton pulled down the lid, locked the box, and put the key in his pocket.

"Let us take our places again,"

said he. "Now you understand why this room is locked and guarded. Treasure here. The property of the Crown, Mr. Fotherbury, as you doubtless understand. Now, when we find who put that in the chest, we shall know the superman,

and be well out of the maze." Mr.

Fotherbury stood looking across the table at Laxton.

"Of course," said he, "I know you have to take certain—ah—liberties.

Mr. Laxton; but the locked door and all that—it's rather, shall I say, uncomfortable? Is it quite necessary?"

"Quite," replied Laxton, shortly.

"I intend that there shall be any communication with this room till

we know all it has to tell us."

Mr. Fotherbury seemed annoyed, but Laxton was undisturbed. He said to me:

"Mr. Grenofen, kindly go and sit on the chest."

And to Somerset: "Go and take a chair on the other side of the table."

And to Redlake:

"Please go over and stand by the door."

We moved accordingly. I full of wonder.

"We are here," said Laxton, "to determine how Roger Pell came by his death. Mr. Redlake, were you in the corridor outside that door

at the time?"

"Yes," said Redlake.

"Did you shoot Pell in the attempt to shoot anybody else?"

"No."

Gives Painting To Senate House

Mrs. Isabella Clarke Harrison has presented to the trustees of the Senate House Association one of her paintings, a painting designated by him "A Misty November Morning." Mrs. Harrison writing to Judge Clearwater, the president of the association, says that her husband and she are about to remove to Albemarle County, Virginia, and that she feels the painting which was bought by her father and mother at the American Art Association in 1912 should remain in Kingston. In accepting the painting for the association, the Judge said its members were glad to add so valuable a work of art to their collection of paintings by Vanderbilt and McEntee. He added that Mrs. Harrison's mother had been his classmate of the old Kingston Academy in the study of Romance languages and the study of mathematics and that her grandfather, Judge William B. Wright, Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals had been a warm friend of his student days.

SECOND LESSON IN CHILD TRAINING SCHOOL

Perhaps one of the most important of all three lessons or talks to be given on October 9, 10, 11 at the Child-Training School at the Y. W. C. A. will be the second one, when on Wednesday, October 10, Dr. Wilker of the Rockefeller Foundation will return to give one of her highly valuable talks on "Problems of the Young Child." Modern methods of guiding children will be explained, for parents today are taking a keen interest in studying their children to understand their behavior and to be better prepared to guide them. Dr. Wilker will soon convince all who attend her class that modern psychology has much to offer that will be helpful to every parent.

After the lecture a general discussion will be held in which mothers and others attending may ask questions and discuss their individual problems with Dr. Wilker.

BANQUET FOR METHODIST WOMEN ON OCTOBER 2

On Wednesday, October 2, at 6 p. m. in the Fair Street Reformed Church a banquet will be held in connection with the Branch Annual Convention of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, which is being held October 1-4, in the St. James M. E. church.

Mrs. F. B. Stockdale of Long Island is to be the toastmaster. The speakers are to be three young people's missionaries. Miss Mable Woodruff, in charge of day schools in Kinkiang, China; Miss Alice Smith and Rotha Landis, teachers in Hwa Nan College, Foochow, China. Girls and women interested in young people's missionary work are invited. Tickets may be secured at the information desk at St. James church on Tuesday.

Prayer and Praise
Let praise—say not merely thanksgiving, but praise—always form an ingredient in our prayers. In praise the thought of self vanishes from and is extinguished in the mind and therefore to be large and fervent in praise counteracts the natural tendency to selfishness which is found in men's prayers.—Edward M. Goulburn.

PREACHER THINKS THERE IS SOME GOOD IN JAZZ

Mooseta, Oct. 27, 1929.—Jazz music with some of its new tendencies is seen as an aid to the church by Bishop E. L. Waldorf of the Episcopal diocese of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

"Jazz reigns in 10,000 halls in this country where no preacher will ever be heard," he said in an address before the St. Louis conference of the church here. "It seems probable 25 millions of people that the church will not affect. So it is that song hits which encourage smiling in the face of difficulty have a great opportunity for good."

"It may be," he continued, "that the lines about 'Mary and me, the baby makes three' have had a part indirectly in discouraging companionate marriage."

Card Party at St. Peter's

On Monday evening, October 21, there will be a card party at St. Peter's School Hall, corner Adams and West Pierpont streets, to which all the parishioners and the general public are cordially invited. Under the auspices of the Children of Mary of the parish this social evening is to be held and the proceeds will go towards the annual parish entertainment, for which preparations are being made and which will be held on the evenings of November 11 and 12. The games will commence at 8:15. Refreshments will be served.

(Special to the Freeman)

New York, Sept. 26.—Part of the proceeds of a dinner-dance and bridge to be given by the alumnae of the Academy of Our Lady of Lourdes on board the Ile de France on the night of October 17 will be devoted to the Kingston school of the order of Sainte Ursule de la Sainte Vierge, whose mother house is in Bruges, Belgium. Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press).
Birmingham, England—American clocks seem to be doing somebody some good. Much of the world's supply of hand-clocks is made here, wide secrets being handed down from father to son, and a manufacturer says: "If it were not for large orders from America we should have to go out of business."
Strasbourg, France—Storks are disappearing. This has nothing to do with the birthrate. The birds are decreasing on the Alsatian plain because of the reclaiming of swamps.

Berlin—There has been a transatlantic medical consultation by radio. A specialist here telephoned to an authority in Buenos Ayres and photographs were radiated. It took about ten minutes. The consultation was a great success. The Argentine authority confirmed the opinion of Berlin physicians that the patient could not be cured.
Ayr, Scotland—The Loch Doon School has three children. Two pupils are rowed across the Loch daily by their father. When it is stormy the school has only one pupil. The fathers are shepherds.
New York—A big war on noise is in the making. Organizations representing property worth $1,446,000,000 having combined to solicit federal legislation to control noise. Speakers, auto horns and the like.

London—Joseph Chamberlain is a second lieutenant in the Coldstream Guards, preferring military life to politics, which his grandfather and namesake and his father, Sir Austen, followed. Joseph is 23 years old.
Danzig, Germany—German innkeepers desire that a law requiring them to post lists of drunkards be repealed. They so resolved in annual convention, arguing it is hard to determine what a drunkard is and how there are few, if any, in German cities. The law was passed in 1944.

Adapazar, Turkey—An old woman and three Mohammedan priests are in jail awaiting trial for bootleg teaching of the Arabic alphabet, which has been forbidden by Mustafa Kemal. The woman had 60 pupils in the cellar of her house. The priests were teaching Divinity students in the mosque of Mohammed the conqueror at Stambul. No edition of the Koran in the new alphabet has yet been published.
Cumberland, Md.—Because he uses tobacco approval of the Rev. Henry W. Craver of Augusta, W. Va., as deacon has been withheld by the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. He said he would not smoke publicly but would reserve the right to do so in private. In debate it was argued that some of the leaders of the conference smoke. The matter was referred back to a committee for adjustment.

For Meditation

By LEONARD A. BARRETT

A MOUNTAIN TOP POINT OF VIEW

THIS article is written on one of the highest elevations in the Allegheny mountains. From this point of view three states and seven counties are visible. The vast expanse of territory is a veritable dreamland of trees and shadows of vastness and silence.
In the presence of such beauty nature seems to teach valuable lessons. She seems to say, "Come along with me and I will show you real power and beauty. Enter into the silence with me and I will point the way to calmness and self-control. In the music of my cathedral songs of birds and rustle of tree tops—there are no discordant notes. My music is a grand march of progress ever onward and upward which is attuned to major chords."
From a mountain top point of view the perplexities of every day life, which we have left behind for a while, seem very unimportant. Return to them we must; but when we do so, it is with a broader and wiser insight because we have been permitted to see these perplexities from a point of view of calm detachment.
The beauty of an oil painting is enhanced when viewed at a distance. A too near point of view spoils the picture for us. A lily lifted too near the sun will wither to white ashes, but when allowed to grow in earth's gardens sufficiently removed from the sun, its heat and light contribute to its beauty.
Get away from your work and go into the mountains. It is one of the best investments one can make. It pays big dividends in terms of those life values which enable a man to master his work and not be mastered by it.
Fatigue is nature's warning signal that we need a vacation. Rest is nature's method of storing up energy and reserve force. Therefore, get ye to the mountains!

A MOUNTAIN TOP POINT OF VIEW

THIS article is written on one of the highest elevations in the Allegheny mountains. From this point of view three states and seven counties are visible. The vast expanse of territory is a veritable dreamland of trees and shadows of vastness and silence.
In the presence of such beauty nature seems to teach valuable lessons. She seems to say, "Come along with me and I will show you real power and beauty. Enter into the silence with me and I will point the way to calmness and self-control. In the music of my cathedral songs of birds and rustle of tree tops—there are no discordant notes. My music is a grand march of progress ever onward and upward which is attuned to major chords."
From a mountain top point of view the perplexities of every day life, which we have left behind for a while, seem very unimportant. Return to them we must; but when we do so, it is with a broader and wiser insight because we have been permitted to see these perplexities from a point of view of calm detachment.
The beauty of an oil painting is enhanced when viewed at a distance. A too near point of view spoils the picture for us. A lily lifted too near the sun will wither to white ashes, but when allowed to grow in earth's gardens sufficiently removed from the sun, its heat and light contribute to its beauty.
Get away from your work and go into the mountains. It is one of the best investments one can make. It pays big dividends in terms of those life values which enable a man to master his work and not be mastered by it.
Fatigue is nature's warning signal that we need a vacation. Rest is nature's method of storing up energy and reserve force. Therefore, get ye to the mountains!
Rest is not quitting the busy career. Rest is fitting one's self to his sphere. (© 1929, Western Newspaper Union.)

Roman Forts Preserved

Four Roman forts and a section of Hadrian's wall were included in the sale of the Chesters, a historic Northumberland (England) estate. Much of the property was bought by tenant farmers. The forts and the wall, once outposts of the Roman empire, are well preserved.

Benefit Party Big Success

Under the direction of the Port Ewen Branch of the Parish Aid Committee of the Women's Guild of Ascension Church, West Park, of which Mrs. William E. Yesso is chairman, a very successful benefit party was held in the Polheim Orchards Tea Room, Port Ewen, Wednesday evening. Mrs. Yesso will have over one hundred dollars to add to the fund and to report to the Executive Committee of the Building Fund when it meets in Ascension Rectory this Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Yesso enjoyed the hearty cooperation of all whom she asked to help her. She was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Edgar Coy of Newburgh. Mrs. Howard Mackey of Highland, Mrs. William Hooper of Esopus, Mrs. Alice Dumont, and Mrs. Maude Rhyon of West Park; also by Howard Mackey, Henry Polheim, Frederick Yesso, William Yesso, Albert Walker and Theodore Iwetz. Edgar Simms of Marlborough drove his car many miles throughout the day carrying messages and bringing in refreshments. The committee is particularly indebted to Mrs. C. H. Polheim, owner of Polheim Orchards Tea Room, who so generously offered the use of her attractive place, and did much to make the evening a success. Contributions were received from the following individuals and business houses all the way from Newburgh to Kingston: Mrs. Laura Elsworth, three plants; Miss Maude Decker, china pitcher; Mrs. Hudson Covert, novelty set and gentleman's hose; Mrs. Howard Mackey, novelty set; Mrs. Edgar Coy and Miss Hilda Coy, fancy aprons; Mrs. E. B. Germain, wax rose; Rev. S. G. Dunne, china pepper and salt set; William Yesso, basket of apples; Mrs. A. P. Sheldon, sack of rice; Mrs. C. H. Polheim, muslin, china and candy; Miss Wheeler, wax rose; Mrs. Contigello, basket of fruit; Mrs. Elmer Murphy, bath salts; Mrs. Hasbrouck, French lavender; Mrs. Vivia Freer, handkerchiefs; Mrs. Maude Rhyon, silk hose; Mrs. Herbert Christian, cut flowers; Mrs. Percy Mott and Mrs. William Yesso, silk underwear; Vogue Beauty Parlor, bridge bell signal; Gregory & Co., mayonnaise set; Junior Yesso, tie; Rose & Gorman, hand painted cake set; Jack Gramer, silk rose; L. O. Ferguson, perfume; A. E. Veros, tie, two pounds of coffee; Mrs. Augustus Walker, bath salts; Frederick Yesso, mixing bowl; Dr. G. W. Ross, C. V. L. Plitts, silver match box holder and silver olive spoon; Mrs. William Hooper, perfume; Edward Weber, two pounds of coffee; J. Jackson, two pounds of loaf sugar; George Burger, two ferns. Sandwiches and refreshments were generously provided by the following: Mrs. Frank Ackert, Mrs. Alice Dumont, Mrs. Henry Neher, Mrs. Elmer Murphy, Mrs. Estelle Travis, Mrs. Frank Walters, Mrs. William Yesso, Mrs. Rachel Sheldon, Mrs. W. D. Burger, Mrs. E. B. Germain, Mrs. C. H. Polheim, Mrs. William Hooper, Mrs. Charles Atkins, Mrs. Percy Mott. Ernest Kelly of Kingston very kindly loaned the committee seven dozen folding chairs for the occasion. The players at the twenty-five tables came from: Port Ewen, Ulster Park, Esopus, West Park, Highland, Marlborough, Newburgh, New Paltz, Hurley and Kingston. Members of the following organizations took tables: Ulster County Farm Bureau, Ulster County Home Bureau, Junior League of Kingston, West Park Men's Club. An excellent pen and ink drawing of the facade of the proposed building drawn by the rector, the Rev. S. Glover Dunne, was on exhibition, and vividly illustrated his excellent talk at the close of the evening. This was the first of a series of entertainments planned by Miss Rachel Sheldon, chairman of the Parish Aid committee of the Women's Guild to help in raising funds for the building of the much needed Ascension Church Community House.

MODENA. Local members of Plattekill Grange held their annual fair at the Grange Hall Tuesday evening September 24; a supper was also served. Friday evening, October 11, the fifth dance for the benefit of the Modena Fire Department will be held. These dances have proven popular, as good music, fine floors and good fellowship can ever be found there. Hans Anderson has left the employ of Dubois Griman, local grocer, and has gone to New Rochelle, where he will learn the finer rudiments of a cooking course, in connection with the business he will conduct at New Paltz, in the near future. He has the best wishes of many friends who wish him success in his enterprise. Mr. and Mrs. George Mathieson and son of Newburgh visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Mathieson, at Modena Inn, during the latter part of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Taylor of Port Ewen were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Shultz. Current reports of the condition of Mrs. Frank Crawford of Cornwall-on-Hudson, formerly of Modena, who was badly injured during the sewer gas explosions at Newburgh, last week, are favorable. The condition of Frank Crawford remains serious. Their friends in this village extend sympathy, and wish them a speedy recovery. Modena residents have received notice of a dance to be held at the hearing house of Celestine Garcia, north of Plattekill village, Friday evening, September 27. This will be held for the benefit of the Plattekill Fire department. The department has a splendid new Sanford fire engine, fully equipped. Lester Wager is employed as a clerk in the grocery store of Dubois Griman. Miss Leah Hasbrouck has returned to Hackensack, N. J., where she is attending school. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gerow entertained a number of friends and relatives at their home Sunday of the past week. George Kaber of Plattekill has threatening grain for farmers in this vicinity. Eber Smith, who is employed as a waiter at Lake Mohawk, was a caller in Modena Monday. Mrs. William Ostrander of Balmville, N. Y., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt Courter, Sr., of Modena, who was injured in the explosion at Newburgh is reported as improving. Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Mackey entertained guests at their home Sunday. Mrs. Morrell spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mallock Harris. Miss Frances Jabaut has returned to her home at Washington, D. C., after spending the greater part of the summer months with her aunt, Mrs. Ward Black, in this village. Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Christian Mathieson returned to New York city Tuesday after spending a few days at his home at Modena. Many people from this place attended the auction at Callahan's place, Gardiner, Saturday. Visitors at the Modena Methodist parsonage last week were Mr. and Mrs. Channing Swart and daughter, Frances; Mr. and Mrs. William Fish, all of Dornanville, N. Y.; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller of Newburgh. Miss Edith Van Iderstine, who has a position as teacher at Goshen, spent the latter part of the week with her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. W. Van Iderstine. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Weber entertained guests at their home Tuesday evening. Miss Alice Denton and friend of Kingston were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. John Denton.

Harry Chambers is suffering with an abscess in his head, but is better at this writing. Robert Freer and family of Lomontville called to see his parents on Thursday night past. Miss G. Minister Fell Among Samaritans

Canadian Pastor in Auto Crash at Ulster Park. Thankful for Aid Extended Him by Local Auto Club Recently.

The Rev. A. W. Shepherd of Alton, Canada, has arrived at his home there after an experience in Ulster county that he will not soon forget, and back of that fact lies an interesting story. Some time ago while the Rev. Mr. Shepherd was touring through New York state in his automobile he was badly injured in an automobile accident at Ulster Park.

After the accident he was removed to the Kingston Hospital and as he was a member of the A. A. A., the Ulster County Automobile Club, which is affiliated with that organization, took an active interest in the case and saw to it that the wrecked car was towed to a garage for repairs and that the injured pastor was given every assistance and treatment. During the pastor's stay at the hospital, where he was confined for five weeks, he was visited daily by members of the local auto club.

When the Rev. Mr. Shepherd had finally recovered sufficiently to be discharged from the hospital he was removed to the railroad station by members of the local auto club, who arranged with the auto clubs at Albany and also in Canada to meet the train.

That the Canadian pastor was thankful for having fallen into the hands of good Samaritans is shown by the following letter received by the Ulster County Automobile Club: "A kindly Providence arranged my journey home. I was met at each train with wheeled chairs which gave me safe and comfortable transportation. I was met at St. Thomas and brought home in comfort. I had a grand reception at the church where a church meeting and dinner was in progress, and I have nothing but gratitude and happy memories of this episode in my life. The hard knocks and bruises fade. Memory preserves for me only the blessings. We are all deeply indebted to you for your kindness which you poured upon us all with a lavish hand and without stint."

MICHIGAN SETS ASIDE TWO FORESTS FOR FIRE TESTS

Explosives, Gas and Other Flame-Fighting Methods Will Be Tried Out.

Lansing, Mich.—In two gigantic laboratories, one of them containing 2,700 acres and the other 1,400 acres, the state of Michigan and the federal government will learn how to combat the red menace of forest fires.

Fire-fighting apparatus and methods will be tried out under conditions as nearly as possible duplicating reality; weather conditions will be recorded, explosives and gas will be given trials and new methods of "back firing" under varying conditions will be tested. When the work is completed—probably in two or three years—long strides will have been made towards curbing timber losses due to fire, H. J. Andrews, head of Michigan's fire fighting forces, is confident.

"When we have completed our work," the warden said, "we will have burned over about one-third of the area which was set aside for the purpose by the conservation commission. Our work this fall will be the division of the land and timber into lots. We shall probably work in units of two, burning one block of timber and saving the other adjacent to it for comparison. We will also burn similar pieces of timber at different times of the year to compare damage and regrowth."

Assistance of the federal government was assured the project through the interest of Crosby A. Hoar, district forest inspector at Duluth, who promised that if the state of Michigan would set aside the land his department would furnish technical help and equipment. The cost of the work, it is estimated, will be less than $5,000 to be divided between the state and federal service.

Forest fires in Michigan, while they have not been completely stamped out, have been cut down appreciably in recent years. Andrews reports, and his report for 1929 may show the smallest loss on record.

Careless cigarette smokers still are blamed for more forest fires in the state than any other cause. Last year they were responsible for $24 fires, the others being blamed as follows: land clearing, 160; campers, 22; railroads, 178; incendiary, 87; unknown cause, 72.

Nurse Robbed by Her Fiancee, Once Patient

Denver, Colo.—Romance came into the life of Marie Styer, nurse at the National Jewish hospital here, and then—with the same startling swiftness—fled out the front door of the little apartment which was to be her home, and at a cost of $1,000.

Miss Styer had recently met Benjamin Mandel, a patient at the hospital. They wanted to get married, but Mandel had no money. So Miss Styer sold a bond for $1,000. She would loan it to her sweetheart to be paid back at his convenience. He gave her a $10,000 insurance policy for security.

After selling the bond Miss Styer and Mandel went to the apartment. She placed the $1,000 in her trunk along with the insurance policy.

They were to be married that evening. "You'd better go out and get your hair marcelled for the wedding," he suggested.

She left the apartment and was gone about two hours. When she came back she found this note: "I have gone out to get my hair cut."

He took along for safekeeping the $1,000 and the insurance policy—and he hasn't yet returned from his hair cut.

Exeter Is Credited With Birth of G. O. P.

Exeter, N. H.—Exeter has received the long delayed credit of being the birthplace of the Republican party. A bronze tablet bearing an inscription that it was organized Oct. 12, 1853, at Major Blake's hotel, now the Squamscott house, has been placed near the main entrance of that hostelry.

This tablet was given by former Exeter and New Hampshire residents and reads "On this site the Republican party was first so named by Amos Tuck, Oct. 12, 1853." The name Republican was chosen by Mr. Tuck when at an informal meeting at Major Blake's attended by leading lights of the time called to fix a plan of harmonizing the different party organizations of the day.

There were four other parties at the time, besides the Democrats and it was thought that the others could pull together better under one title of organization.

The call for the conference at Exeter for the formation of a new party was contained in a letter written by Amos Tuck and sent in September, 1853, to a few leaders of the various parties represented at the meeting.

Just Counting His Money

New York.—Alarmed when she discovered her roomer surrounded by half a trunkful of small bills and silver coins, Mrs. Mary Calinga called the police, who helped William Langwell, aged fifty-five, and his trunk and treasures into a taxi and took him to a police station. There Langwell convinced the police the money, totaling more than $2,000 was his life's savings, and that he was merely counting it. They, in turn, convinced him he should leave it in their care until he could bank it. Most of the bills were of the $1 denomination. The largest was $10.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

The Coat Assumes the Fitted and Flared Silhouette

New York. There have a way with them which is distinctive until one is accustomed to the new line. Their chief aim and object in life, or so it seems at this writing, is to create as far as possible from heretofore accepted standards. Our ideal coat was, in the not so long ago—very slim and very straight. Occasionally a relatively straight coat is seen, but the flare is the thing and while it is placed low in many instances, it rarely is omitted entirely. Other, and more ultra models make a great point of flaring and even add a cape to carry out the idea.

All this is equally true in fur as well as fabric. The dressmaker's touch—a phrase of a season ago—is as deft as ever and has made for interest in fur as well as cloth ones.

Middy Blue Broadcloth Makes This Coat Which is Interesting For Its Flaring Movement Above and Below a snugly fitted Hipline. The Cape Is Made in One With Back of the Coat and Is at Sides Only Over the Sleeves. The Fur Trimming is Natural Wolf.

(Copyright, 1929, by Fairchild.)

Flat and curly furs have first call at the moment for trimming purposes, largely because they are the newer note. Astrakhan has been applauded, and brown lamb on black, white caracul on black and other arresting contrasts are impressive at most showings.

Naturally a more restrained handling of the new silhouette is noted for coats than for dresses, but they have fallen quite under the spell of the more closely fitted line. The wavering hemline has entered into the designing of some of the smartest models.

Broadcloth has been revived among other things and is seen heavily furled at wrist as well as neckline. Circular flounces, scarf collars and unusual sleeve treatments, are such in evidence as well as handings of fur and other tricky trimmings.

Roman Enervation

The historian Pliny declares that for 600 years bathing was the Roman's only medicine. However, the Romans went to an extreme and the public baths became the lazy man's paradise—an evil rather than the basis of a wonderful custom. The Roman became an idler, a dawdler—and was an easy victim for the conquerors from the North.

A Simple Play Garment for Young Children.

6625. Printed linen in a red and blue pattern on a white background was selected in this instance. Collar and hand cuffs are of white organdy. One could have rep, pique, gingham or pongee. This neat little garment may be finished with or without the bishop sleeve portions. A group of narrow tucks lends fullness over the shoulders. The garment closes at the side and at the inner seam. It is made in slip-on style.

The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 1, 2, and 3 years. To make a 2 year size will require 1 1/2 yards of 32 inch material. If made without the bishop sleeve portions 1 1/4 yards is required. For collar and hand cuffs of contrasting material 3/4 yard is required cut crosswise. To bind collar, leg edges and slash with bias binding will require 2 1/4 yards 1 1/2 inch wide.

SPEECH DEFECTS ARE NEGLECTED

Survey Shows 500,000 Children Are Afflicted With Stammering.

Washington.—Disorders in speech have been grossly neglected, according to the United States public health service. This is especially true in the case of school children. It was pointed out in a statement issued here.

Of 1,000,000 persons suffering from some defect in speech in this country today approximately 500,000 are children who stammer or stutter. Uncorrected imperfections in speech observed in childhood, the public health service said, become a serious economic and social handicap in later life because of their bearing on educational achievement and ability to secure preferential employment.

Defects Are Functional.

The majority of speech defects, fortunately, are functional in character, not dependent on definite organic lesions and can, therefore, be corrected. Most speech defects, it was said, develop in children between three and eight years old.

The public health service listed retarded speech, imperfect speech associated with partial deafness, imperfections caused by malformations of the organs of speech, and the nervous speech disorders namely stammering, stuttering and nervous hesitation as the most common defects in speech.

"The popular belief that children who do not learn to talk at the normal age are mentally defective is responsible for much unwarranted anxiety," the public health service declared. "While it is true that disordered speech may be an early symptom of mental defect, speech development may be delayed as late as nine years of age in children otherwise normal."

Partial deafness may also be the cause of speech defect, it continued. Most deaf mutes have perfectly normal speech organs, but do not exercise them because of their inability to hear spoken words. With them the underlying cause of their inability to talk is deafness. Since imitation is such a pronounced factor in the development of speech in children, careful tests should be made of all speech defectives for the discovery of partial deafness which may easily account for the imperfect speech. Such children should always be referred to an ear specialist for treatment; and if treatment is ineffective lip reading should be taught.

Look for Malformations.

"Imperfect speech also may be caused by malformation of speech-producing organs, such as harelip, very short upper lip, narrow palate, cleft palate, nasal obstruction, tongue-tie, and very irregular teeth. Careful search should be made for the presence of malformations in order that prompt corrective treatment may be administered. The underlying cause of stammering is purely mental. It is essentially due to emotional disturbance, and implies lowered ability to meet a difficult situation. It is most frequently observed in the so-called nervous, highly strung children.

As these children grow older they unconsciously fear that their speech organs will refuse to work and have the horror of being the object of ridicule. A sense of inferiority develops, establishing a vicious circle—the greater the dread, the more imperfect their speech.

"Parents should not be deluded by any expectation that the child will outgrow the defect. Only the very mild cases developed through imitation may be said to be outgrown when the increasing mental development of the child enables him to recognize and correct his mistake. The wise parents will give close attention to the speech disorders of their children in order to remove the handicap in life which these disorders impose."

Portuguese Are Allowed Only Dark Brown Bread

Lisbon.—Though nobody can explain the reason, only one type of bread is to be sold in Portugal. With the world's supply of wheat so large and with the price at the present level, it has been decreed that the bread-makers all over the country shall produce a uniform type. There is general complaint.

The importation of wheat and the price at which bread is sold is regulated by the authorities. The bread at present being sold is of a dark brown color and white bread has disappeared from the market.

Odd Nesting Place

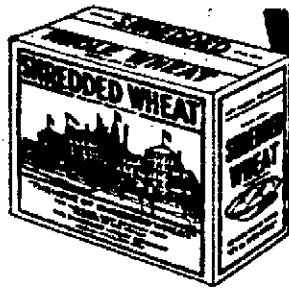

A young lady at East Grinstead, England, went to remove letters from the letter box, and feeling a slight flutter, investigated and discovered that a tin had utilized the box for a nest, and had laid eight dainty little eggs. In the stomach of a bullock killed in the same town were found nails, screws, iron bolts, and hairpins. At Hatfield a snake, driven on to the road by the fires in Ashdown forest, was run over and killed by a motor car. It was more than a yard long.

Great Elizabethan Comedy

The vivacious comedy, "The Merry Wives of Windsor," was written by Shakespeare in 1590. Tradition has it that the play was composed by command of Queen Elizabeth, who wished to see her favorite character, Falstaff, in the situation of a lover. It has been one of the most popular of the Shakespearean comedies from the days of Elizabeth to the present time.

Burglars and Police

Frank Gilbreth says burglars get caught because they never hold conventions. The burglar is a solitary worker, dependent largely upon his own resources for methods of attack and getaway. If burglars held conventions and exchanged ideas, Gilbreth believes, they would beat the police. But the police are organized to attend conventions and exchange ideas, and catch the solitary burglars one by one and put them in jail.

Lindberghs in Venezuela Today

Maracaibo, Venezuela, Sept. 25 (AP).—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, explorer of aerial highways, rested today at this half-way point in his trail-blazing 12,000-mile tour of the West Indies, Latin America and Mexico.

The flying colonel was not idle during his stopover here on the night over the northern coast of South America from Paramaribo, Dutch Guiana, to Cristobal, Canal Zone, first leg of his homeward bound journey. He made his plans for a survey tomorrow of a new Venezuelan air route sponsored by Pan-American Airways.

Cooperating with Colonel Lindbergh in the preparations for the survey was Juan T. Tripp, president of Pan-American Airways, and a passenger on the Caribbean circle tour. Mrs. Lindbergh and Mrs. Tripp, also passengers on the lengthy flight, expected to spend the day resting and sight-seeing in this Venezuelan town.

Colonel Lindbergh flew here yesterday over the 415-mile coast line from Port of Spain, Trinidad.

En route, the flying colonel complacently climbed over the bow of the big amphibian to make photographs from the anchor compartment.

The schedule tomorrow calls for a 7 o'clock departure on the 177-mile hop to Curacao, Dutch West Indies. The last stop of the day will be made at Barranquilla, Colombia.

Silver "Cartwheels"

The original coinage of the silver dollar was authorized in 1792. By the act of January 18, 1837, the weight and fineness of the coins were changed. The act of February 12, 1837, provided for the discontinuation of the coinage of silver dollars. The acts of February 28, 1870, July 14, 1890, and March 3, 1891, authorized the recoinage of silver dollars. The silver purchased under the act of 1891 was consumed in 1904. There was no further authorization to purchase silver for dollars until the passage of the Pittman act of April 23, 1918. From that time on silver dollars have been issued each year.

Demand and Supply

Two friends had met and were discussing business on the way home. "I heard that you'd kind of amalgamated with old Marples at your game."

"Well, you're half right," agreed his friend. "We are in partnership all right, but we don't sell the same kind of thing."

This puzzled the other man. "Explain what you mean," he suggested.

"Well, you see, Marples goes about selling a stove polish that leaves a stain on your fingers, and two days later I call with the only soap that'll get it off."—London Answer.

Peculiar Beauty Culture

Startling color effects are achieved by the women in parts of the Solomon Islands. They bleach their kinky hair white with a paste made from coral lime. An arch of lime is applied over each eyebrow. Straight lines of lime cross each cheek and meet at the chin.

Big ears are considered beautiful on the island of Borneo in the Dutch East Indies. The women insert heavy rings in the lobes of their ears until they gradually yield to the weight and assume the desired character of long loops. These often hang below the shoulder, and the beauties adorn them with heavy rings.—National Geographic Society.

Settled by German Kaiser

The dispute between the United States and Great Britain that was arbitrated by a German emperor was in relation to the San Juan water boundary. In 1871 the German emperor rendered a decision sustaining the American claim.

Life's Happiness Found in "Doing unto Others"

An old man who had met his seventy and tranquilly for more than eighty years was asked the secret of his cheerfulness. He answered in four words: "Thinking of other folks."

"You can't travel very far in this world," he explained, "without finding that your path is all tangled up with other folks' paths. Some people think that if they can only travel their paths without getting hurt themselves, they're going to be happy."

"But there's more to it than that. When you've learned to do a collision, not because you're afraid of getting hurt yourself, but because you're afraid of hurting the other fellow, you're getting near to happiness. But when you arrive at a point where it's a genuine pleasure never to cause grief to another living soul you're still closer. In other words, when you get so far that it's a joy to you just to make others happy, you're about there yourself."—Great Thoughts (London).

World's Great Debt to Peruvian Guano Bird

One of the most valuable birds in the world is probably the Peruvian guano bird. It exists in countless millions in the uninhabited islands on the coast of Peru and it is stated that some hundred millions pounds worth of a fertilizer, 30 times as strong as barnyard manure, have been obtained from one station alone. The deposits there are some two feet thick, and extend over great areas.

Why the birds should be more numerous there than in other parts of the world is not easy to say. It has been explained that a current flows along the west coast of South America keeping that section cool and hence suited to the habitat of myriads of small fish. By a fortunate coincidence the birds congregate here, and the bare islands in the vicinity form centers where the invaluable fertilizer is deposited in vast level tracts, from whence it may be dug out and transported.

Shakespeare's Great Drama

Of the ten of Shakespeare's historical plays the drama, "King Henry IV" is the most brilliant and various. It was esteemed by Verplanck: "The most popular of all dramatic compositions in the language." Composed in 1596 or 1597, it was first printed in the latter year. In this play Shakespeare first introduced the rollicking character of Sir John Falstaff.

Heart Tag Day Saturday

"Have a Heart" and "Help an Unfortunate" will be the appeal of many of Kingston youngsters who will be about the streets tomorrow with their collection boxes and little red heart tags.

Those who have been invited to compete for the prizes and theatre tickets are asked to meet their respective leaders at nearest headquarters soon after 9 o'clock to receive their tags and instructions.

Purchasers are asked to display their tags to avoid second appeals. The committee hopes that everyone will have two hearts on Saturday, your own and one of the Volunteers of America, to help someone else.

First Presbyterian Church Notes. Dr. Freidinger of the Lebanon Mountains in Syria, speaks at the morning service Sunday. Coming from the land in which Mrs. Hopkins' Sanatorium is located, his address will be of unusual interest. At 11:45 on Sunday the Rally and Promotion Exercises will be held. Strikeout Kings Set For Smoke Ball Clash In Series

Lefty Grove

Pat Malone

WHO'S WHO-CUBS

By JAY VESSELS
Sports Editor
(Associated Press Feature Service.)

New York (AP).—Speed ball pitching comes back to the world series spotlight this year for the first time since Walter Johnson burned 'em over back in 1924 and 1925.

Two artists of this fast ball business—Pat Malone of the Cubs and Lefty Grove of the Athletics—are all steamed up and ready to begin shooting streaks of lightning when the 1929 classic opens in Chicago October 8.

What they have to offer in the line of speed may be on display no later than the first game. Grove looks better than a fifty-fifty shot to open for the A's, and since Guy Bush has been slipping of late Malone may be picked to start for the Cubs.

Both Malone and Bush lead their leagues in strikeouts. And it takes super-speed to rate this ranking with such stars as Vance, former major league strikeout king, competing against the Big Bruin hurler, and George Earnshaw and George Pipgras bidding for American League strikeout honors.

The two kings of speed have more than their 1929 performances to recommend them as strikeout aces.

When it comes to setting the boys back on strikes, Grove stands alone in the American League. He has led the league in this department for four straight seasons. He whiffed 194 in 1926, 174 in 1927, 182 in 1928 and, on September 18, had 161 to his credit for 1929.

Malone has been a big leaguer only two seasons but he has shown the boys some smoke in that brief period. He fanned 155 last year, finishing second to Vance.

This year the Chicago giant has a clear field to the strikeout title. Pat had 156 in the bag on September 23. If these big boys get started on the same day, speed ball pitching may become one of the series' greatest attractions.

Give either, or both, one of those dark, cloudy October afternoons and there may be a day off for the remainder of the team.

SERIES OPENER RAINY? 50-50, SAYS PROPHET.

Chicago (AP).—The chances are 50-50 that it won't rain on the world series opening day.

The weather bureau, like a loyal fan, has figured it out.

In the last 10 years there have been five October 8's that were clear, three on which a trace of rain fell and two when the clouds did some serious weeping.

As for temperature, it's 10 to 1 that it will be above 60 degrees. The average temperature for October 8 in the last 10 years has been 60.5 degrees.

World Series Attendance And Receipts

(By The Associated Press.)

Here are some salient facts and figures on world's series of the past:

Greatest single game crowd, 63,600, at Yankee Stadium, New York, October 27, 1926, second game of series between Yankees and Cardinals.

Greatest series total attendance, 328,051, Cardinals and Yankees in 1926.

Greatest gate receipts for one series, $1,207,864, Cardinals and Yankees, 1926.

Greatest gate receipts one game, $224,130, Yankees-Cardinals, first game, New York, October 1, 1928.

Smallest crowd for one game, 6,210, fifth game, Tigers-Cubs, Detroit, October 14, 1908.

Smallest gate receipts for one game, $332, Athletics, 1905.

Smallest losing player's share, $4,197.37, Cardinals, 1928.

Smallest losing player's share, $832, Athletics, 1905.

Total attendance (1905-28 inclusive), 4,384,992.

Total gate receipts (1905-28 inclusive), $12,330,819.

Ferdie Schupp, a star with the Giants in the days of Christy Mathewson, Jeff Tesreau and Rube Marquard, is pitching good ball for Milwaukee in the American association.

Ten players of the International league are veterans of twenty or more seasons on the diamond. Tris Speaker and Jim Walsh top the list with 24 campaigns to their credit.

The University of California baseball team won six games and lost six on a tour through Japan. And won six and lost four in Hawaii. The squad was gone twelve weeks.

Dazzy Vance, Frankie Frisch, Hughie Critz, Ed Roush and Paul Waner are expected to be cutting capers in strange ball lots next year, according to recent rumors.

American League, Thanks To Yanks, Victor In 14 of 24 World Series

New York (AP).—Paced in recent years by the New York Yankees, American league pennant winners have won 14 of the 24 world's series since 1905.

In the six seasons from 1923 to 1928, inclusive, the Yankees captured three of the annual classics.

By blanking the National league entries in the 1927 and 1928 series, the Yankees increased the American league margin in games won to ten and gave the junior loop an advantage of 17 scores in total runs.

Here is the record of games and runs since 1905:

All-Stars Will Play Rondouts

"The All-Stars have broken their long holdout" as Manager Arthur Golek of the Rondout A. C. puts it, and will meet the Seventh Ward team in the first game of the much talked of series, Saturday afternoon at the Athletic Field. Manager McCordie of the All-Stars considers the game a warm-up for his club's meeting with the Pan-Ams Sunday at the Kingston Fair Grounds.

It is expected that the Athletic Field will be well crowded Saturday afternoon, when the game starts at 2:30. Pondout fans, claiming that the All-Stars have been running away from their favorites all summer, and predicting an overwhelming victory for the Golekmen, will be out in strong numbers.

Manager John McCordie of the All-Stars is confident that the Rondout "rooters" will not undo the following his club expects to have at the field. He is anxious to scalp the Rondouts and will put forth every effort to realize his ambition.

Batteries for the game have not been definitely named. Phil "Waco" Peters will toss 'em over for the Rondouts with Dulla receiving, while the All-Stars will have Volker, Best or Joyce as their hurling material with Hank Smedes doing the catching.

But Few Do

"Never too late to learn," said Publius Syrus. No, unless you know it all—then that settles it.

Sharkey Kayos Tommy Loughran

New York, Sept. 27 (AP)—The fight between the heavyweights, Jack Sharkey, has put the big punch back into the picture, just as it seemed that there wasn't a man-and-woman left in the ranks. The big Boston sailor exploded it last night, without the slightest warning, to accomplish the downfall of Tommy Loughran, established a crowd of 15,000 spectators and restore himself to the top of the heavyweight league that has been battling so desperately for the title left by Gene Tunney.

Sharkey, in the most convincing exhibition of speed and punching skill he has shown in more than two years, knocked out the handsome Philadelphia boxing master in the third round of a 15-round match at the Yankee Stadium. In less than seven minutes of actual fighting—after 27 seconds of the third round had elapsed—Sharkey's unexpectedly vicious attack crushed the heavy-weight hopes of the retired ruler of the 15-pound division.

Loughran rose at the count of five, more from instinct than anything else, staggering toward a neutral corner, his back to Sharkey as referee Lou Magnolia stepped in to keep the rampant sailor from renewing his attack.

Unhesitatingly, Magnolia stopped the fight, for Loughran, though on his feet, was in a complete daze, his arms hanging and helpless. It was a technical knockout but if ever a man was thoroughly "out on his feet," it was Tommy, too dazed to know what had happened; that his dreams of scaling the heavyweight heights had been completely shattered.

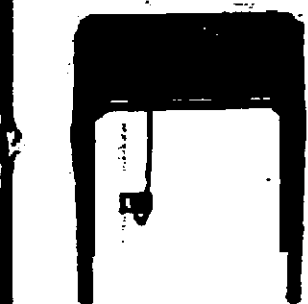

Walker to Meet Hudkins.
Los Angeles, Sept. 27 (AP)—The middleweight championship of the world was placed at stake today by Micky Walker, who signed to meet Ace Hudkins, the Nebraska wildcat, at Wrigley Field here October 29 in a ten-round bout to a decision.

JIM BURKE ONCE FIRED MCCARTHY

Ranks Next to Kid Gleason for Length of Service.

He made Joe McCarthy carry the bats and Joe did such a bad job that he fired him into his first managerial job. When Joe became manager of the Cubs the first man he hired was the man who fired him—Jimmie Burke.

You may have wondered who is the florid, dignified man who goes down to first base to do the coaching for the Cubs every afternoon, writes Harry Neilly in the Chicago American. That's Jimmy Burke, who is a coach and not a messenger boy for the manager.

"Tomato-face, tomato-face!" a rookie shouted at him one day. What Uncle Jimmie replied never can be printed in this or any other newspaper, but it was sufficient to stop the fresh kid.

"You're on the bats today, young fellow," Burke told McCarthy in 1912. The Indianapolis club of which Jim was manager was going from Minneapolis to St. Paul and wrestling a leather sack full of two dozen bats was no easy chore. Danny Hoffman, the old outfielder, was delegated to assist McCarthy.

"I didn't know whether it was that or something else," Burke says, "but I fired Joe and he went to Wilkes-Barre, where he became manager the next season. He won a championship and you know the rest."

No sooner was McCarthy made manager for the Cubs than he bethought himself of proper associates. He always admired Burke, so when the Toledo club was in Louisville before the 1925 season was done he broached the subject.

"He came around with his car," Jim says, "and we drove up on top of the highest hill back of Louisville. 'I'm going to the Cubs next season,' Joe told me, 'and I want you to go along.'"

"Sure, I said, 'I'll go along if you pay me enough money.' Well, I've been here ever since, haven't I? I'm the second oldest coach in the majors. Kid Gleason is the only older man on the job. Me? I'm only 54 years old."

Here is Burke's baseball career in brief, he being a third baseman by trade:

1895-96-97—Peoria, Ill., league breaking up July 4.

1897-98—Third baseman for Connie Mack at Milwaukee.

1899—Farmed to Rochester, where he helped Al Buckenberger win a pennant.

1900—Milwaukee again and then with the White Sox, when Clark Griffith managed.

1901-02—Pittsburgh, winning championship in 1902, but there was no world series.

1903-04-05—St. Louis Nationals.

1906-07—Kansas City.

1908—Louisville as manager, later released to Indianapolis.

1909—Fort Wayne as manager.

1911-12—Indianapolis as manager and fired.

1913—Indianapolis as coach.

1918-19-20—St. Louis Browns, assistant to Fielder Jones.

1921-22-23—Boston Americans, manager.

1924-25—Toledo, manager.

Thus he has the peculiar distinction of having worked for both the managers in the impending world series and fired one of them.

When in Milwaukee Burke got in bad with a crowd of Teutonic fans that always sat back of third base. There was feeling between the German and the Irish at that time and Burke was the butt of much roasting. Something had to be done. The secretary of the club called in the newspaper man.

"We are going to make a change at third base," he said. "Hereafter August Friel will play there instead of Burke."

Stories to that effect were printed. This tickled the customers and the hammer-throwing delegation would shout of an afternoon:

"Knock 'em down to Owegost Friel—he make 'em out. Much better'n dat tom Burke."

"And him," observes Jim, "as Irish as I am, but it went over big."

Burke is a kindly man of serious men. He makes the chief coaching job a position of dignity and responsibility. He knows what should be done on and off the ball field and does it quietly, efficiently and in a way that pleases. He has been of vast assistance to the young man he fired.

"Uncle" Jim has one weakness. He wears a derby hat in winter.

William T. Stobbs is the new football coach at Wittenberg college.

Fidel LaBarba will invade Europe as a featherweight, visiting London, Paris and Berlin.

Chick Meehan's teams have won 20 games, lost 6 and tied 3 during his coaching at New York university.

Hal Janzrin, former star of the Boston Red Sox, is still playing ball for Quincy in the Boston Twilight league.

The Detroit arena where Dundee and Fields met, is square in design. Most arenas have been circular or with six or eight sides.

Peter A. Rasmus, Ashtabula, three times champion of the Big Ten in the discus throw, has been elected honorary captain of the 1930 Ohio State track team.

Klon G. Hogsett, star hurler of the Montreal Royals, and one of the sensations of the International Baseball league this season, has been sold to the Detroit Tigers.

Wildly-heralded "record" golf scores are really nothing of the sort. Officially, a record score can only be made in a medal-play competition, with the holes and tees in their proper medal position.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould,
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

The National League has more decoration and $1,000 check to bestow upon its most valuable player before this award passes out of existence, and it will not be surprising to see it go to Hank Williams, the chubby slugger of the Cubs.

The addition of Rogers Hornsby is considered to have made pennant winners out of the Chicago Nationals but the club won the award in 1925 and although technically he can repeat, there has always been a prejudice against this. The pitching of Guy Bush and Pat Malone deserved heavily in the Cub victory but the most vital piece of evidence in Williams' favor is that the team's lead rise dated from the shift of Hank to the clean-up role.

Red Lucas, by winning close to 50 games for the lowly Cincinnati club, and Frank O'Doul, of the Phillies, by his great batting, earned high ranking but the standing of the club usually influences the main award. The American League has discontinued the player award, effective this year, but any vote taken probably would favor Al Simmons, the great outfielder of the Athletics.

"Watch Alabama", writes a southern enthusiast. "In Tony Holm, the Tide has one of the most dangerous and versatile backs in Dixie. The big blond fullback plunges, runs the ends, kicks well and is fast developing as a star passer."

No one has yet accused southern Methodists of seeking soft spots at the outset of its gridiron campaign. The roaming Mustangs picked October 6 last fall to gallop up to West Point and give the Army a rousing battle as Redman Hume outpassed Red Eagle. This October 5 Ray Morrison tackled Nebraska, the Big Six champions, at Lincoln by way of making Dana Bible feel at home in his new job with the Cornhuskers after a long stay in Texas.

The popular eastern notion that they raise bigger and better athletes in the California climate doesn't stand much scrutiny. Quite often the California stars are transplanted easterners. Gibson Dunlap, here for a day in the amateur golf tourna-

The SANDMAN STORY

BILLIE AND THE KIWI

BILLIE BROWNIE was much excited.

He was going to call upon a bird-creature he had never seen before. Of course he always enjoyed calling on his old friends. He liked to hear more of their news.

Sometimes he liked to have them tell him the same things about themselves for then he could tell others who hadn't heard all the news, and he could freshen up his own memory about their ways.

But it was an event to call on a new creature he had never seen at all. He put on his best brown suit and his best brown stocking cap with the brown tassel at the end, and started on his journey.

The new creature upon whom he was to call was the Kiwi.

He didn't quite know how to pronounce the creature's name but he did his best, in his own guesswork fashion and knew that would do.

"One comfort always is," Billie Brownie said to himself, "that animals

"Gracious, No," said Billie Brownie.

won't glare at you if you don't pronounce their family names correctly."

He followed the directions Mother Nature had given him. And then he came before the Kiwi.

"I'm Billie Brownie," he said, introducing himself. "Mother Nature has given me the power to understand her children and the way they speak."

"You will find, too, that you can understand me. Mother Nature attended to that, for, as she said, a one-sided conversation wouldn't be of much use."

"I do understand you," said the Kiwi.

"It's a fine day," said Billie Brownie, for the Kiwi didn't seem to be doing any talking, though he looked friendly enough. He didn't look particularly lively though.

"Is it?" said the Kiwi. "I hadn't noticed."

"Yes," said Billie Brownie, "or at least, I think it is. Some might say it was a bit too windy, or others might say it was a bit too sharp, but to my way of thinking it is very pleasant."

"What is your way of thinking?" asked the Kiwi suddenly.

"Well, well," said Billie Brownie, "it's just a Brownie's way of thinking."

"Oh," said the Kiwi, "then it doesn't mean that only along one certain road or way you can think? You are able to think anywhere?"

"Dear me, yes, I should hope so," said Billie Brownie.

"I wonder," he went on after another pause, "if you wouldn't tell me something about yourself?"

"I don't mind doing that," said the Kiwi.

"You can see what I look like with your own eyes—for I notice you have your own or at least I suppose they are your own. You didn't borrow them, did you?"

"Gracious, no," said Billie Brownie.

"Then," said the Kiwi, "you can see with your own eyes that I look something like a small ostrich and something like a white leghorn hen."

"In fact, I'm somewhere between the two in the animal world. I'm from Australia—a country in which many curious and interesting animals live—and I'm like a mixture of a small Australian ostrich and a white leghorn hen, as I said, and as you can see."

"I have down instead of feathers. The eggs I lay are not so large as those of a hen."

"I can't fly at all worth mentioning. In fact, I'm just an odd creature."

"But I'm odd enough not to mind being odd. That's the only way to be if you are odd."

"If you are odd and are sorry you are odd, it is a great pity and is apt to cause you unhappiness."

"But if you're odd and don't mind, then no harm is done, and everyone is more or less satisfied."

"You came to see me because I was odd, possibly?"

"Possibly," said Billie Brownie, "as long as you don't mind the use of that word."

"But truly I came to see you more because you were a new creature I'd never seen before, and I wanted to tell my friends about you."

"Ah," said the Kiwi, "so the friends of Billie Brownie will know about me! That's not so bad, not so bad," the Kiwi ended, looking at Billie Brownie in rather a foolish way.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

IT "RINGS TRUE"

WE SPEAK of a story or an account of something "ringing true," when we mean it bears every semblance of truth and sincerity. Usually it doesn't "ring" at all. The story may come to us without even the sound of the human voice. We may read of it and yet use the expression "it rings true." The words however are a survival of a time when it was by literal "ringing" that certain truth or falsity was established.

The expression "it rings true" had its origin in the days when a large quantity of counterfeit money was being unloaded in the country and it was a common sight to see people drop a coin they had received in change to the counter in order to hear the ring by which they could distinguish the genuine from the imitation. The term took hold and came into popular usage in the figurative sense in which it is familiar today.

Why We Do What We Do

by H. E. THOMSON, Ph. D.

WHY WE GET DOWN IN THE MOUTH

IT IS a very unusual person who can keep sweet and even-tempered under all circumstances. The great majority of us have our ups and downs. And perhaps down more often than up.

The behavior of a ship on the ocean depends considerably on the weather conditions and the mood of the ocean as well as on the mechanism of the ship itself. Yet there are those who somehow expect to sail the seven seas of life in a perfect calm and under ideal conditions. In the first place the thing is impossible and in the second place it is undesirable.

We get down in the mouth when we are lost and cannot see our way out of the fog. The blows of adversity, the stings of failure play havoc with us. There are disappointing experiences that dry up the juices in a man and leave him shriveled up like a dried prune.

It isn't so much the physical blows that floor us as it is the more subtle forces, mental and spiritual. A man can stand a lot of physical punishment and pain because he knows what hit him and where it hurts most. But when we deal with disillusionment an outraged sense of justice and fair play, jealousy, envy and hate it is like trying to capture a ghost.

Life is a series of adventures. We are constantly meeting up with new problems which necessitate new adjustments. If these problems crowd in upon us faster than we are able to meet them we become temporarily disorganized, unadjusted and consequently, down in the mouth.

We get down in the mouth because the mental and spiritual apparatus that constitutes our particular personality is temporarily out of gear and needs to be adjusted. We make the adjustment in time to avert the disaster of complete demoralization.

The occasion is one for special homage to the Blessed Sacrament and all parishioners are requested by the pastor to be faithful in attending devotions. The order of services during the Forty Hours is as follows:

Sunday, 10:30 a. m., opening of devotions with solemn Mass, procession of the children and singing of the litanies. Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament throughout the day. Devotions, sermon and Benediction at 7:30 p. m.

Monday, exposition starts at 6 a. m., with distribution of Holy Communion at the same time. Masses at 6, 7 and 8:30 a. m. Devotions, sermon and Benediction at 7:45 p. m. Tuesday's program will follow the same order.

After that the several societies of the parish will visit the church in groups as follows: Christian Mothers, 3 to 4 p. m.; Children of Mary, 4 to 5 p. m.; Men of the parish, 5 to 6 p. m.; Sacred Heart League, 6 to 7 p. m. The closing exercises on Tuesday night at 7:45 will be especially for the men of the parish, who are expected to turn out in large numbers for the procession before the Blessed Sacrament. After the procession there will be the chanting of the litanies, Benediction and the congregational singing of the hymn of praise, the "Te Deum".

Confessions will be heard from 4 to 6 p. m. and from 7:30 until all are heard on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Lelong Has Ideas About Waistlines

Would Place Where Most Suited to Figure—For Coat Collars.

Louise Lelong advocates the placing of the waistline wherever it is most suited to the individual woman's figure, says a Paris fashion correspondent in the Kansas City Star. His collection presents nearly 200 models which avoid either primness or fitted effects for bodices. Instead, bodices frequently are bloused slightly at the back over a narrow belt, or a seamed waistline, placed over the top of the hips. Sometimes this waistline is slightly higher at the front.

Skirt length is likewise handled with moderation, the decision for sports remaining just below the knee, and for afternoon wear averaging three inches below the knee. In this connection, even hemlines are favored.

Silhouette features include narrow bias bouffes applied at the hips in a back-dipping line, exploited in the majority of cases for day-time frocks. Another involves a wide band also placed around the hips, and ending at the back in a bowknot with streamers which form panels; this idea is adopted mainly for evening, harmonizing with similar bow draperies sometimes placed at the center back, in evening wraps.

The silhouette was commented upon as wearable and without exaggerations.

Whatever circular fullness occurs is placed low towards the back of the skirt. Many daytime coats, however, remain straight. Sleeves of dresses are long and plain. Necklines adopt an open effect; many in V cut, while in several afternoon dresses a square neckline with a fabric bowknot at one side appears.

The evening decollete is cut low but fewer shoulder straps are sponsored.

Coat sleeves are simple, but frequently the armhole is not cut separately.

Coat collars emphasize upstanding collars with fur on the outside, and astrakhan is notable in this styling.

Monsieur Lelong states that his colors are especially selected for winter when gray weather and electric lights influence daytime clothes.

White Fox Pelts Dyed Gray, New Paris Mode

White fox pelts, dyed gray, except for the tips of their tails, are new neckpieces and threaten to put a crimp in the popularity of silver foxes next winter.

Blue fox also is mounting the fashion scale with the result that prices for the blue skins are going up in Paris.

The dyed white foxes were first shown by a Rue de la Paix dressmaking house which advocates them for wear with suits.

As black and white mixtures are hailed as the primary favorites in autumn suiting, there seems little likelihood that the gray dyed fox fashion will be dropped immediately.

Blouse Hipband Used to Hold Knickers Up

The problem of how to keep tuck in blouses tucked in is solved at some of the leading fashion houses in Paris by attaching knickers or lace trimmed panties to the hip-band of the blouse.

Sport blouses and shorts are made in one, joined at a hip-fitting yoke. Fragile lingerie blouses and the popular satin and crepe de chine tuck-ins are buttoned to the lingerie, the blouse band fitting over a yoked undergarment.

A Homemade Sachet

Small pieces of blotting paper saturated with your favorite perfume and placed in chests with handkerchiefs and lingerie will keep them well scented for some time.

Appearance Count

A man's fortune is frequently decided by his first address. If pleasing, others will at once conclude that he has merit; but, if ungraceful, they decide against him.—Lord Chamberlain.

Complete Plans For Vets' Ball

Extensions on plans previously made for their Halloween night benefit Costume Ball at the armory were made Thursday night when the Veterans of Foreign Wars met at Joyce-Schirlick Post Dugout on East Chestnut street. The spirit of the meeting pointed to the ball's success in every respect.

Chairmen of the various committees reported progress and pledged themselves to the utmost in working for the event. Committee heads are as follows: Edward J. Wortman and Myer Kaplan, general chairman; William Goldsworthy, door; Peter Halloran, finance; Otto Taurin, floor; B. J. Kaplan, entertainment; I. B. Trawbridge, patrons; M. M. Michelson, decorations; Harry Malsenfelder, music; Edward Ross and George Schick, lighting; the Ladies' Auxiliary, refreshments.

After transacting business concerning the Costume Ball, which will be run to defray relief work expenses and those of the post home, the post initiated Edward J. Colwell of Allouan. This world war veteran, who is a candidate for state assemblyman, was gladly welcomed into Joyce-Schirlick Post.

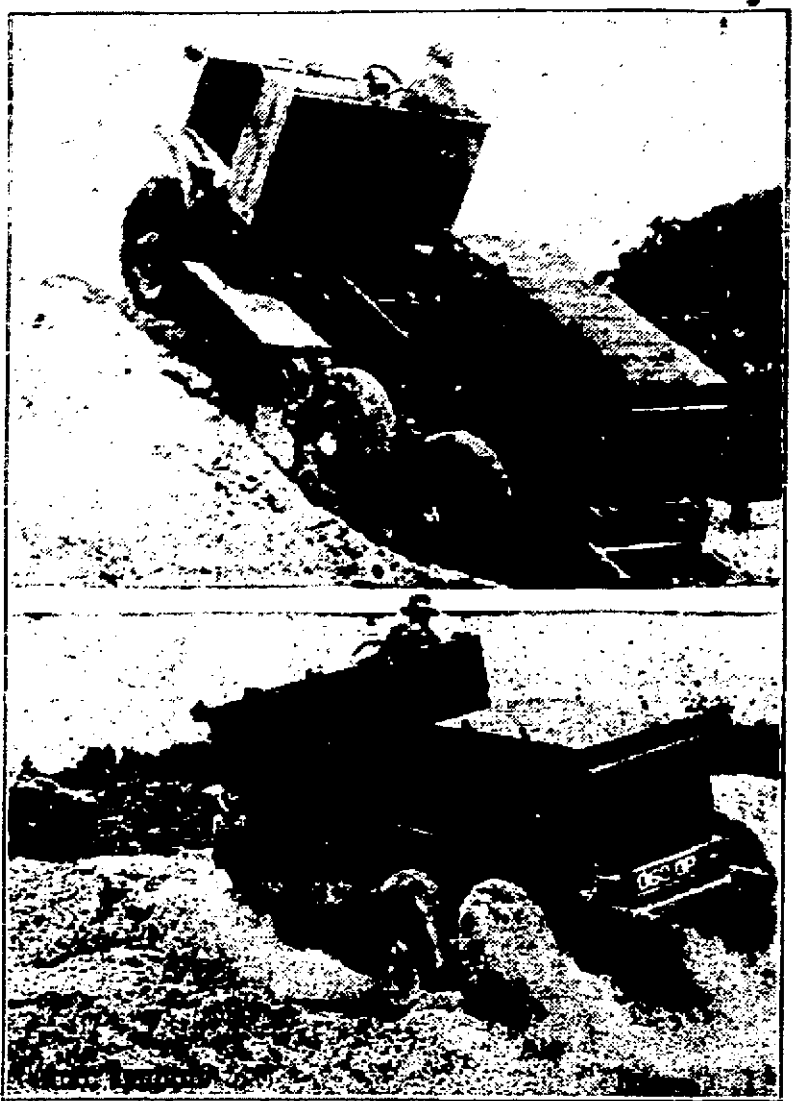

When the business of the post had been finished the veterans and Ladies' Auxiliary, who also had a meeting, joined in a social time. Refreshments were served by the ladies and a card party was enjoyed. The following high scorers were awarded: Mrs. G. Schick, Peter J. Halloran, Mrs. B. J. Kaplan, Mrs. M. White, Mrs. E. J. Wortman, Joseph Mitchell, Frank Ploczenski, Harry Malsenfelder and J. B. Keck.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will hold the second of a series of card parties at the Dugout on Tuesday evening, October 1. It is for the public and many are expected as a goodly number reserved the date after attending the ladies first card party of the season several weeks ago.

McDonalds Start Tonight.

London, Sept. 27 (AP).—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, with his daughter, Isobel, and the members of his small official party, leaves London tonight to board the liner Dorongaria at Southampton on his great mission to Washington, the aim of which is to make, with the cooperation of President Hoover, disarmament possible and the peace of the world secure.

SAFETY PROGRAM ON LARGE SCALE

Auto Fatalities Show Increase of 29 Per Cent in Five Years.

Pointing out that motor vehicle fatalities throughout the nation had increased 29 per cent in the five-year period between 1924 and 1928, the accident prevention department of the Chicago Motor club announces plans for an intensive safety program on a scale far greater than ever before in the history of the club.

"While the motor club is taking every known means to reduce the number of accidents in which adults are involved, we shall center our efforts to save children from injury or death," the announcement said. "After nearly ten years passed in fostering the school boys' safety patrol, we are convinced that that method is the most effective means yet devised for protecting the youngsters. Our safety staff has recently been doubled, and with the added personnel we shall be able to achieve 100 per cent organization of patrols throughout our territory.

Work of Patrols. "The majority of schools in that region has had patrols for a number of years. The large staff will make regular visits to the schools, not only for the purpose of organizing patrols, but to insure their operation in accordance with regulations, and to make effective addresses on safety to the student bodies.

"The distribution to school rooms of monthly safety posters, illustrated in two colors, is another phase of safety education that we shall enlarge. Last year we issued about 23,000 every month. We hope to double that number during the coming nine months of the school year. The posters portray a simple but effective lesson in safety, and most teachers require the children to write compositions based on them. Subjects on which the juvenile mind must give sufficient thought to write are not soon forgotten.

Ways and means whereby the highway sign service has been perfected have been discovered, thereby permitting the club to co-operate 100 per cent with all communities desiring this service.

High Spots of Safety. "The foregoing activities are but the high spots of the present safety plans of the club. They are not to be considered in the form of a 'drive' or 'campaign.' Instead of being a temporary effort, they are being waged consistently and persistently at all times. The outstanding difference between past and future activities is that the latter will be far more widespread than the former."

AUTOMOBILE NOTES

Automobiles in use outside of the United States now equal the registration in this country in 1919.

Twenty-five miles an hour is "reckless driving" if the road is crowded, is the opinion now entered in the state laws of Indiana.

"Oh, gosh!" muttered the motorist who had just been struck from the rear by the fast freight. "It always makes me ill to ride with my back to the engine."

Phonocle Party.

Charles DeWitt Council, No. 91, will hold the second of a series of phonocle parties in their hall, 14 Henry street, on Monday evening, October 14. Refreshments will be served. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Did You Know

That it is regarded by many that some of the misfiring laid to the carburetor is due to location of the spark plugs in too cool a place? The spark, thus, has too large a gap to jump.

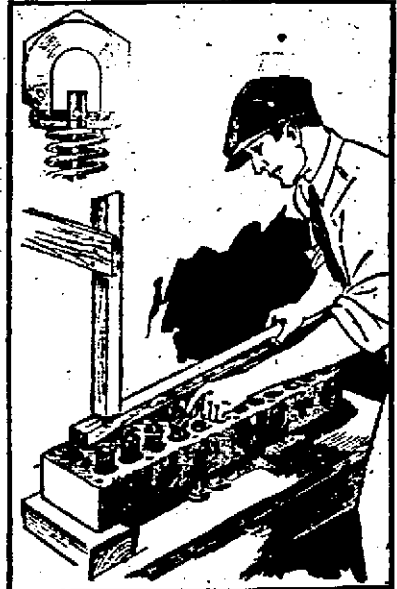

That a considerable amount of pedal play improves the operation of the hydraulic brakes on some makes of car?

That gasoline consumption at high speeds may be twice as great as at the most economical speed—the normal rolling speed of the car?

That brake faults frequently ascribed to "loosings sometimes are due to warpage and scoring of the brake drums?

Slotted Nut Assists in Valve Spring Assembly

For removing or replacing the valves in an overhead-valve auto motor, the simple tool shown in the drawing will be found very handy, and any motorist can make it in a few minutes. It consists of a large nut, slotted at one side so that it forms a U-shaped spanner. By placing this over the valve stem, with the legs set firmly against the spring-retaining washer, and applying pressure by means of a wooden lever, as indicated, the spring can be compressed to permit removing or "inserting the plug." G. A. Luers, Washington, D. C., in Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Using a Slotted Nut and a Wooden Lever to Compress Auto-Valve Springs.

Items for Medicine Kit When on Long Car Trip

When leaving on an extended motor trip it is advisable to take along a few simple remedies to be used in case of an emergency.

Experienced campers recommend that the tourist's medicine kit should contain the following:

Roll of antiseptic bandage, a pair of small scissors, absorbent cotton, healing salve, cast plaster, castile soap, vaseline, adhesive plaster, glycerine suppositories, a few flaxseed, to remove cinders from eye; an eye cup, powdered boric acid, for eye wash; castor oil capsules, epsom salts, bicarbonate of soda, quinine capsules, citromella oil, to ward off the mosquitoes; camphor for chapped lips and hands; anti-cholera tablets, for diarrhea, and iodine applicators for bruises.

Important Human Glands

The ductless glands which control the height of man are the thyroid and parathyroids. As far back as 1856 the medical profession recognized the relation of these to the growth and development of the human body.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, Sept. 27.—The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church will be held Thursday afternoon, October 10, at the home of Mrs. Edward Bishop on Broadway. There will be no meeting on Thursday, October 3, as the Missionary Society holds their convention that week in the St. James Methodist Church in Kingston.

Tickets are on sale for the Methodist excursion to New York on the Rip Van Winkle bus Friday, October 18. This is a real treat for the people of Port Ewen and vicinity to enjoy a beautiful autumnal ride in the Pullman buses of John Van Gonsse.

The Dorcas Society will meet at the home of Mrs. C. H. Polhemus this evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Polhemus and Anna Wolf will be hostesses for the evening. A meeting of the Dorcas Society of the Reformed Church will be held this evening at the home of Mrs. C. H. Polhemus. Miss Anna Wolf and Mrs. Polhemus will be hostesses of the evening.

For the ordinary layman the reading of official histories of the great war entails weariness of spirit. He feels that the human element is eliminated by the scrutiny of strategy and the marshaled array of fact. He knows well enough that scientific study of the events that convulsed the world and spilled the blood of millions of men is of the utmost importance, and he accords it due respect; nevertheless he feels that for him, and for humanity at large, the vital thing in literature about the war is the record of the experience of the individual soldier. And he is right, says the Glasgow Herald.

What makes a hop-skip-and-jump tourist, who has just done Europe in four weeks, groan in anguished disappointment is to have some one invite him to "tell all about" his trip and then, just as he is about to swing into action, be drawn into the back eddies and compelled to listen to the other fellow's technical description of the method he used in improving his golf. There, dearly beloved, is agony of the soul seven times compounded.

A circular addressed to "Samuel Chapin, corner of State and Chestnut streets," Springfield, Mass., was sent out by a mail order house. The Samuel Chapin in question is a bronze statue of Deacon Chapin, one of the founders of Springfield. At that chance is that the mail order literature which tells the average man's desk would get just about as much attention from Deacon Samuel as it does from the rest of us.

"HAMSTERS" PUZZLE STEAMSHIP AGENTS

They Prove to Be Rodents Peculiar to China.

Shanghai.—A telegram forecasting the arrival of 200 hamsters for shipment to Peking recently changed the equality of the local live steamship offices in Shanghai.

The message gave no particulars except that the shipment would be accompanied by an attendant who would look after the welfare of the consignment. The official to whom the message was referred called for the freight tariff files. He searched in vain for a classification that would enlighten him. He called for a dictionary and an encyclopedia, but was unable to find any information relating to hamsters.

During the luncheon hour he inquired of every one he met, "What is a hamster?" Some said a young pig. Others defined the word as "a man who sells hams." Still another was sure it was a "container for soiled clothes."

Eventually the shipment arrived and with it a letter of explanation. The hamster is a rodent peculiar to China. It is larger than a mouse and smaller than a rat. Each of the animals was inclosed in a separate cage. The consignment was being shipped to Peking on a Dollar steamship and thence to be transhipped to Camp Gachati, in Assam, India, to be used for experimental purposes in connection with the work of the Kala-Azar commission, which is investigating cures for tropical fever. The rodents were shipped by the Peking Union Medical college.

They were fed with cooked black beans and were accompanied from Peking to Shanghai by a Chinese attendant, who saw that they received the best of care.

On board the Dollar liner President Johnson they were cared for by a doctor en route to Peking, who accepted the responsibility of seeing that his charges received the necessary quota of cooked black beans a day.

Potatoes Are Grown on Tomato Roots

Worcester, Mass.—Local wags are remarking that "the potato vines are producing good potatoes" this year and proving their point.

They refer to an experimental tomato-potato plant, grown successfully after 20 years experimenting by Oscar Soderholm, horticulturist. It produces potatoes underground and tomatoes above.

It is neither joke nor freak, Mr. Soderholm says, but an attempt to produce better tomatoes by giving them stronger roots. He says the potato roots are both larger and stronger than those of the tomato plant, and that under his theory the combination should produce more tomatoes.

He claims that the results prove the theory, for he has vines bearing more tomatoes than a normal plant, and growing ten feet high, when supported. The tomato plants are real, for they were grafted upon the potato vines.

Epidemic Is Killing Penguins by Thousands

Cape Town, South Africa.—Penguins are dying by the thousands along the South African coast as the result of a mysterious disease.

Superintendent Jackson, Guano Islands inspector, received reports from Lambert Bay, stating that thousands of dead penguins were washed ashore. The beaches of False bay are also strewn with dead penguins.

Doctor Gil, curator of the South African museum, said that some epidemic unknown to science was responsible and he feared it would spread to Dassen island, the chief penguin sanctuary off the coast, from which 500,000 eggs are collected in a season.

Cat Walks Back Home After 210-Mile Ride

Kenilworth, N. J.—A Maltese cat owned by Carl Geores of Michigan avenue walked home from an automobile ride of 210 miles. The cat was taken to Marlville, N. Y., on July 20, where the Geores family has a summer cottage.

The cat roamed about the cottage for two days and then disappeared. Thin, with sore feet and a look of determination in her eyes, the cat walked into the Geores home recently.

Paris Street Named After Famed Beauty

Paris.—Madam de Gast, once known as the most beautiful woman in Paris and certainly one of the most beneficent, has just been honored by having her name added to the Rue Crespin, which will thus henceforth be known as the Rue Crespin de Gast. It is one of the very few streets in Paris named for women, for, what with all the generals, marshals, presidents and city councilors and mayors ready for honors, the women come in for very few.

Madam de Gast was a splendid musician, an excellent horsewoman and one of the first of her sex to engage in motor car racing. She was also a good balloonist and once made a parachute descent of 32,000 feet. During the war she gave all of her time to hospital work.

Youth on Trial Spin Does a Lot of Things

Modesto, Calif.—The parents of Max Deary, sixteen, planned to buy a car. So the youth took the machine out for a trial spin, accomplishing the following results:
Cut off the towns of Escalon and Riverbank from electric power for one hour.
Cut off the towns of Oakdale and Knights Ferry for 30 minutes.
Blow all the fuses of a Pacific Gas and Electric corporation private telephone service serving Escalon, Riverbank, Oakdale and Knights Ferry.
Imported automobile traffic on McHenry avenue by knocking a 17,000-watt power line from a pole.
Shattered a high-tension power line pole.
Wrecked the automobile.
Caused himself to receive several minor cuts and bruises.
The youth lost control of the car and struck the power pole, which cut both power and telephone wires.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 27 (AP).—Prices broke wide open today after the stock market had tried vainly to overcome the bearish influence of an unexpectedly large increase of $192,000,000 in Federal Reserve brokers' loans. The selling orders were so large that the market was swamped. A score or more high-priced stocks broke 10 to 25 points, while declines of 2 to 5 points were quite general throughout the list.
Call money renewed unchanged at 9 per cent, with indications that the rate would be maintained all day. Time money rates held firm at 5 to 5½ per cent. Wall Street was trying hard to determine the effects here of the raising of the Bank of England discount rate, some observers contending the action already had been discounted and would have no effect on the credit situation here, while others feared it would lead to a heavy withdrawal of foreign balances as a result of the action of other central European banks in raising their bank rates in sympathy with London.

Extreme declines of 5 to 10 points took place in such stocks as United States Steel Common, Columbia Gas, Republic Steel, Dupont, Commercial Investment Trust, Eastman Kodak, American Can, United Aircraft, Consolidated Gas, New York Central, Public Service of New Jersey, Houston Oil, Safeway Stores and Electric Auto.
The absence of support in recent market leaders proved extremely discouraging to small traders and investors, many of whom threw their stocks overboard at the market. So great was the flood of offerings that the ticker fell more than 10 minutes behind the market.
Wall Street was curious to learn the market operations of investment trusts, some of which were reported to be liquidating their holdings while others were reported to be accumulating special stocks on a sale down.
The severity of the break impaired many margin accounts and brought considerable liquidation from that source.

Led by the minister, the Rev. Edwin D. Miner, the Reformed Church is spending its Thursday evenings in a study of the Bible. Dr. Arthur S. Peake believes that the average individual knows astonishingly little about the Bible. He lays this to our social conditions, the collapse of earlier sanctities and beliefs, the secularization of life, the spirit of revolt and other causes, this bringing in its train a lowered spiritual vitality. Feeling the need of a renewed interest in the subject of the Holy Scripture, Mr. Miner started the course. It will begin with a study of some of the explorations made in Palestine. Some of the ancient sources will be compared with our present Bible. And at the end of the different books of the Bible will be studied in outline. Together at the end, all should have a deeper appreciation of the meaning and value of the Scriptures for today.

On Tuesday afternoon the Standard Bearers of the Methodist Church met in the church parlors. Considerable business was transacted. Those present were Mrs. J. Robert Halmshaw, the Misses Elizabeth Harbrouck, Grace Mae Harbrouck, Margaret Linacre, Elaine Kniffen, Ruth Van Valen, Carolyn Yeaple, Blanche Gulnac.

The date of the Epworth League dramatic service at the Methodist church has been changed to Sunday evening, October 6.

William T. Edwards is quite ill at his home on South Chestnut street.
Mrs. George Boettiger is spending a week in Asbury Park with her cousin, Mrs. Joseph Beckers.

Miss Frances Swart accompanied a number of friends from Modena on an outing to Mohonk, Sunday afternoon.
The Boy Scouts met in the Normal gymnasium on Monday evening.

Miss Emma Elmore is enjoying a vacation.
Mrs. Ralph Gardner was a recent visitor of Poughkeepsie.
Miss Cora Wadsworth was a member of the summer faculty at the State Teachers' College in Buffalo. She spent her short vacation traveling in the Canadian Rockies and in British Columbia and Alberta.

Dr. Laurence H. Vandenberg went to Albany last Tuesday to visit the state architect's office and review the plans for the new training school. Again on Thursday he visited the capital, this time he was before the finance committee of the board of regents concerning the school budget.

Tuesday, October 15, there will be a supper at the Methodist Church, Saturday, October 12, Ulster County Christian Endeavor Union rally at the Reformed Church.

SOL NOT SO GOOD AS WEATHER SEER

Sun Spots Have no Significance, Says Bureau.

Washington.—Old Sol recently has staged his big parade of sun spots, but has not yet been able to establish himself as a reliable basis for weather forecasting, the opinion of official forecasters here.

The period when the sun exhibits the maximum number of spots, recurring at intervals of approximately eleven years, is now passing. Although the sun spot demonstrations in recent months have impressed in interest of scientists and public in all parts of the world, the U. S. Weather bureau sees no new and dependable evidences that sun spots are a reliable basis for weather forecasting as pseudo-scientists have alleged from time immemorial.

"This bureau has given careful attention to studies of solar phenomena, but does not know of any study that has established a definite relation between weather conditions and sun spots," Dr. Charles F. Marvin, chief of the weather bureau, said.

"It would be exceedingly difficult to establish such a relationship," he explained, "because of the rotation of the earth and sun, and also because at any one time there are many kinds of weather occurring in different parts of the earth. How may one determine which particular kind of weather might theoretically be correlated with a sunspot which might at the time exist. We would welcome any rational demonstration that sun spots control the weather, but so far this has not been proved, and so far the efforts to do so have been absurd."

Keep Record of Spots.
Doctor Marvin said that the bureau possesses information concerning sun spots going back to the early Christian era, and that a complete detailed record of sun spots is available commencing in 1749. This record has been graphed by bureau scientists and shows that the number of sun spots goes through cycles of eleven years, this approximate period elapsing between recurrence of the maximum number of spots. This maximum falls roughly in the latter part of 1925 and early in 1929.

The record shows that in some months as many as 250 spots have been visible, while in others there may be none at all. The longest period when the sun was unspotted was twenty-three months from 1800 to 1811.

"Some scientists hold the view that the eleven-year period is the result of gravitational action resulting from movements of the planets Jupiter and Saturn, but other authorities contend that the spots could be explained by internal action of the sun," Doctor Marvin said.

Seek Cause.
"Recently the bureau published, on its merits, a study of the planetary hypothesis of sun spots by Dinmore Alter of the University of Kansas, which sought to show that short-period fluctuations in the spottedness of the sun could be correlated with the movements of Venus, Mercury and the earth. Other scientists entertain the theory that the sun spots may be meteors which strike the sun."

The fact that spots may be observed on the disk of the sun arises from the fact that these areas are supposedly gaseous formations, relatively colder than other parts of the sun, and therefore appear as "spots" due to their darkness, relative to the surrounding brighter area.

Growing in Grace.

Soviet Fliers Speed On Good Will Trip

Over the route shown four determined Russian aviators are flying to the United States. The plane pictured is the original "Land of the Soviets," which was wrecked, but the machine used now is a duplicate. Shestakov is commander of the expedition.

New York, (AP)—Over a hazardous route a winged messenger of good will is on its way here.

It bears a quartet of Russian aviators ambitious to fulfill their mission as good will ambassadors of their native country.

It is a hazardous voyage of 12,500 miles upon which the Russians embarked August 23 after a first attempt was halted when their plane was wrecked in the Siberian forests near Chita.

Covering part of the route followed by the Graf Zeppelin in its recent globe-girdling trip, the hazards of the voyage rival those of any flight undertaken since man turned to the air in quest of new fields to conquer.

In flying from Moscow to the American metropolis the Russians are braving the terrors of a region where, perverse nature is at its worst in unrelenting its death dealing weapons. Typhoon, thunder and lightning and treacherous wind to try the skill of the navigator lie in the path of the twin motored plane "Land of the Soviets."

Semyon Shestakov is the commander of the flight that gradually brings the Russians closer to their American destination. Shestakov, 31 years old, has a brilliant record in the air that has brought him recognition generally as the ace of Russian aviators.

The others of the crew are Philip Bolotov, the second pilot; Boris Sterlingov, navigator, and Dmitry Fufayev, mechanic.

Across the vast unknown country of Siberia close to the top of the world, then out over the Pacific by way of the Aleutian Islands to Alaska was the route followed by the Russians in a leisurely installment.

The flight is sponsored by the Russian Osoaviakhim, (Society for the Promotion of Aviation). It is an all Russian enterprise, the plane being designed by A. N. Tupolev and with the exception of its motors was built in Soviet plants.

A duplicate of the one wrecked near Chita, it is powered by twin 600 horse power motors. It carries a radio with a good range.

While primarily a good will trip, Commander Shestakov has intimated he and his men may be the path finders for an airline in 1931 between Russia and the American west coast to serve as a continuation of the Trans-Siberian railway service.

John O'Brien, of the Saugerties Gas Co., had the misfortune to have the car which he was working upon start forward on Main street and crash into the large front window of the J. J. Newberry store.

Complaint has come to the police department that parties are committing nuisances and loitering about the Saugerties High School property, between the two buildings. Arrests are to follow if this is not stopped.

Officer John Lavelle, of the local force, is enjoying a week's vacation at present.

Miss Hona H. Pekurney has returned to Elmira College as a senior. Miss Anna Pilgrim of New York City is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Hoyt Overbagh, on Washington Avenue.

Market For Fruits
And Vegetables

New York, Sept. 27 (AP)—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets.)—Peach receipts from western New York were moderate today. Prices advanced sharply on fancy. Trading was moderate. Jobbing business on Elbertas was consumed at $2.50 to $3.25, mostly $2.75 to $3, and as high as $4 per bushel basket.

One year ago Elberta peaches from the western part of the state sold principally at $2.25 to $2.50.

White potatoes were fairly plentiful. Trading was fair and the market ruled about steady. Upstate whites, in bulk, peddled out around $4.75 per 150 pounds. Long Island Green Mountains brought $6 to $6.25, occasionally higher on extra fancy.

Cabbage was fairly steady. Supplies were moderate. Sales on bulk stock were reported at $30 to $35, chiefly $30 to $33 per ton. Offgrade offerings, however, worked out as low as $25.

During the preceding week New York state started 316 carloads of cabbage to consuming centers.

Trucked-in receipts of Hudson valley Concord grapes were moderate. The market held steady and values were without important change. Wholesale trading in twelve-quart baskets was reported at $5 to 40 cents.

Receipts of state peaches were light. Fancy large fruit met a ready market but ordinary and small dragged. Bushel baskets of Bartlett pears sold out at $2.75 to $3.75. Cling Pioneers brought $2.75 to $3.50. Peaches are a light crop, the season being most pronounced in the Hudson valley. Bartlett and seedling are especially light. All varieties average 27 per cent, as compared with 38 last year and 45 per cent in 1927.

The market closed turgid on cabbages and carrots. The demand was extremely light. Fair supplies were on hand from previous arrivals. Jobbing sales on round beets averaged at 75 cents to $1 per bushel basket, and on carrots, washed at $1 to $1.25. Unwashed brought 75 to 85 cents. Most of the white turnips washed, peddled out around $1.25.

Apple and plum changes were unimportant. Prunes and quinces tended lower. Tomatoes, spinach, Romaine lettuce and cucumber prices ranged widely. The market, however, held steady on good stock.

Celery and yellow onions were likewise. Cauliflower remained unchanged.
